600 Attend GOP Event

Ike, Nixon Given Praise At Dinner

"Dwight D. Eisenhower was a great statesman," Dr. Kevin McCann told 600 who attended a Columbiana County Republican "Salute to Ike" dinner Saturday night at Beaver Local High School.

"Former Prime Minister Clement Atlee once referred to Ike as the 'architect of European liberation.' He was a man of great knowledge, working away hour after hour through the pressure of his business. He knew many walks of life," McCann said.

McCann, introduced by State Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel, is a member of the Eisenhower staff at Gettysburg and is President emeritus of Defiance College. He has worked with Eisenhower over 15 years.

McCANN was speaker in place of Rep. John M. Ashbrook, who was unable to attend because Congress still was in session.

"Long before the 1968 convention, Ike came out flatly for Richard Nixon," McCann stated. "Nixon has had good days and bad, great success and failure inescapable, at home and out 'stumping,' and for the last two years, I have been talking nothing but Richard Nixon this year."

McCann then read a statement that he said was in Ike's own words concerning Richard Nixon. "Richard Nixon is one man so intimate and thoroughly known to me that without hesitation I know his sense of duty — his wealth of wisdom. My knowledge of him is first hand. I lived with him through years of intensive study and soul searching. In every discussion on guiding the welfare and security of the United States—through all these meetings—I could watch Richard Nixon absorbed in every thing. He always proved himself an able leader — an outstanding executive. I have no worry of the future of the Republican party if I should be removed from life."

Eisenhower Observes His 78th Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned 78 today, celebrating along with a nation that will honor him throughout the week.

The five-star general, still a patient at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital, has been rated as having made a "miraculous" comeback so far from a mid-August heart attack —perhaps the worst of seven he's suffered since 1955.

The word "miraculous" was used recently by Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the army surgeon general, to describe Eisenhower's recovery.

There was no advance word on any birthday celebration plans at the hospital itself where Eisenhower, for some time now, has been allowed to sit up in a chair for about a half hour several times a day.

But, in effect, the country began celebrating the old warrior's birthday Sunday—the beginning of "America's Salute To Eisenhower Week," as proclaimed by President Johnson Sept. 14.

Genuine Puffer Ride

NEW YORK (AP) — About 960 railroad buffs showed up for a two-day round - trip to Niagara Falls and back aboard a genuine puff - puff steam locomotive.

They came with goggles, bandanas, engineer's caps, cameras, and one blind man brought a tape recorder to preserve the nostalgic chug - chug sounds.

They left from Grand Central Station Saturday morning behind a required electric engine, but up the line, at Harmon, N. Y., a 400-ton steam locomotive was hooked on to the 19-car train, which included an old-fashioned, opened-sided observation car.

The engine once pulled 6,000-ton freights and 70 m.p.h. passenger trains for the Nickel Plate Railroad.

Arias Wants 'Total War' In Panama

Deposed President Urges Citizens To Fight Coup Heads

PANAMA (AP) — Snipers killed two Panama National Guard soldiers in a one-hour battle not far from the presidential palace Sunday night as deposed President Arnulfo Arias called on his supporters to wage "total war" against the military leaders who overthrew him.

Arias, who took refuge in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone after the coup Friday night 11 days after he took office, predicted there would be "death and desolation" unless the military chiefs who deposed him "leave the places they control."

Guard spokesmen said two guardsmen were killed and no others wounded in the fighting in the downtown Maranon slum district. But newsmen saw three guardsmen and a civilian hit by gun fire.

Curfew Set

A spotter plane circled overhead as guardsmen cleared the area and imposed a curfew from 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. Crowds were dispersed without difficulty and quiet settled over the city as the curfew went into effect.

The guard is Panama's army.

In a broadcast message taped for a clandestine radio station, Arias said: "The time for action has come. To the streets, men and women of my country. This is the moment for going out on the streets to fight. The order of the day is to take up arms against the little group of military traitors of the fatherland."

Earlier Sunday, Col. Jose M. Pinilla, who led the coup, was sworn in as provisional president and said his government would remain in power only until conditions permit the restoration of civilian authority.

"We do not believe in staying in power indefinitely," he said.

Services will be held Tuesday morning for an 18-year-old city college girl who died Saturday night at Alliance from injuries suffered in a one-car auto mishap on the campus of Mount Union College at Alliance.

Miss Cathy E. Stover, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roland D. Stover of Broadview Circle, died Saturday at 6:16 p.m. at Alliance City Hospital as a result of the crash which injured six other students at the college.

She was in an auto driven by Jeff Nickel, 20, of Wickliffe which slammed into a tree on the east side of Miller Ave. in Alliance at 1:19 Saturday morning.

Nickel was taken to Canton Aultman Hospital with head injuries.

Involuntary Second Viet Tours Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the Army and Marines are sending thousands of men back for involuntary second tours to Vietnam.

The Army plans to return about 18,000 this year, the Marines some 6,000.

Until this year, the number of nonvolunteers ordered to a second round of war service has amounted only to a trickle.

But this has changed because of the length of the war, the high manpower turnover stemming from the one-year duty tour in Vietnam, and the tight supply of seasoned officers and noncomissioned officers.

Many career servicemen also are becoming eligible for involuntary second tours in Vietnam because they have been away from the war zone for at least two years.

School Bus, Truck Hit In Beaver Falls Area

Nineteen children and a school bus driver were treated at Beaver Valley Providence General Hospital for injuries suffered in a school bus-truck collision on Darlington Rd. in Chippewa Township this morning.

Harold Kirk, 46, of Beaver Falls, the driver, received a head scratch. The children appeared to be only shaken and bruised.

The driver told authorities a tractor- trailer truck jacknifed and struck the front of his bus, which was on its way to the Highland Suburban Junior High School.

The mishap occurred about 7:55. Chippewa police are continuing an investigation. Firemen were summoned to flush gasoline from the highway.

Cong Camp Destroyed By Infantry

Navy Boats Used To Carry Troops Into Swamp Area

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen riding Navy river assault boats raided a Viet Cong base camp in a swamp 38 miles southeast of Saigon Sunday and killed 25 enemy soldiers.

The five-hour fight was one of two sharp clashes reported in the Mekong Delta in which a total of 65 Viet Cong were reported killed and 12 captured.

The U.S. troops from the 9th Infantry Division also seized four persons suspected of being Viet Cong.

Fifty miles farther south, South Vietnamese troops reported 40 Viet Cong soldiers killed and 12 captured. Most of the enemy dead were credited to American helicopter gunships spewing rockets and machine-gun fire. Government casualties were reported as "extremely light."

A communique on the fighting around the Thuong Duc Special Forces camp in the foothills 30 miles southwest of Da Nang said U.S. Marines and Vietnamese infantrymen killed 76 North Vietnamese regulars in a string of clashes that ended Sunday.

Bomber Strikes Made

In addition to the strikes near Thuong Duc, U.S. B52 bombers dropped about 350 tons of bombs on enemy artillery and antiaircraft sites, truck parks, storage areas and bunker complexes 11 miles above Con Thien and farther east eight miles above the allied outpost at Gio Linh.

A military spokesman said Marine fighter-bombers attacked a radar van loaded with electronic gear that guides surface-to-air missiles to their targets. This action took place five miles from where the big bombers struck.

CHARRED TIP of radio antenna tower which struck power lines and electrocuted four New Cumberland area residents Sunday is examined by Charles Rawson, left, assistant fire chief of the Oakland volunteer department, and Junior Barnhart, captain of the firemen.

'Very Traumatic Experience'

Astronauts Report Brief Loss Of Electrical Power

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Warning lights flashed in the Apollo 7 and power was lost for a moment as the spaceship soared high over the Red Sea today. One of the three orbiting astronauts said it was a "very traumatic experience."

Mission Control officials attributed the trouble to a power surge. The power resumed when one of the astronauts flipped a reset switch.

The astronauts said they suspected the trouble that occurred shortly after 1 a.m. EDT resulted from a transient overload on spacecraft electrical systems, perhaps resulting when too many heaters or fans were turned on simultaneously.

Ground controllers who searched for the cause said the problem was not serious and the astronauts, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham, a civilian, went ahead with plans for today's first television broadcast from a U.S. manned spaceship.

Schirra, who refused to switch on the camera during the first scheduled telecast Saturday, agreed to a TV transmission today as the capsule speeds over the United States. The TV view, to be relayed to home viewers by all three national television networks, was to last between 10 and 12 minutes and possibly show the trio housekeeping and eating.

Flight director Gene Franz said that between 40 and 50 per cent of Apollo 7's total flight objectives have been accomplished in the first quarter of the planned 11-day flight, and another 15 per cent will be obtained on re-entry, such as tests of the spacecraft heat shield.

The 4½-pound television camera aboard Apollo 7 can be mounted to point inside the spacecraft cabin or hand held at the end of its 12-foot cord and aimed out a window. Pictures from it are inferior to commercial television received in the home primarily because the camera must operate on less than seven watts of power, compared to 500 watts for a standard studio camera.

The $55 million Apollo 7 spaceship, meanwhile, sped past the million-mile mark in its planned 4½-million-mile voyage scheduled to end Oct. 22 after 163 orbits of the globe.

Schirra, 45, who is making his last space flight, said his cold was clearing up and he was feeling better. Cunningham, who earlier also had a stuffy nose, said he felt "in good shape" after taking a decongestant pill.

Complaining they are overfed, the astronauts told flight controllers they planned to skip a meal occasionally. They were also critical of hammock-like sleeping bags under their couches, and told officials they preferred to sleep in their couches where restraint harnesses can hold them down in the weightlessness of outer space.

New Walkout Hits Schools In New York

Military Funeral Slated For Justice Musmanno

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, always colorful in his personal appearance and his opinions, will be buried Wednesday with full military honors at the Arlington National Cemetery in Washington.

Bishop John J. Wright of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic Diocese will celebrate a requiem mass Wednesday morning at St. Paul's Cathedral in Pittsburgh for the jurist, who died Saturday at the age of 71.

Justice Musmanno, described as "a man of humble beginnings who won international acclaim as a jurist," by Pittsburgh's Mayor Joseph M. Barr, was rushed from his downtown apartment to a hospital Friday, after suffering a stroke.

U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, a Democrat like Musmanno but frequently politically opposed to the jurist, commented:

"Justice Musmanno's death is a real loss to the people of Pennsylvania. For many years he had been most active as a lawyer, as a jurist, as a leader of the Italo-American community and as a friend of labor."

Hubert N. Cain, 41, Relative, 44, And 2 Daughters Killed

A New Cumberland area father, his two daughters and his brother-in-law were electrocuted Sunday afternoon when a Citizens Band radio tower they were installing toppled against a power line.

Dead are:

Hubert N. Cain, 41, of New Cumberland RD, a Weirton Steel Co. employe.

Diana Kay Cain, 18, Weir High School student.

Janet Lea Cain, 15, also a Weir High School student.

George Risbin, 44, of 111 Teresa Dr., Weirton.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the four were trying to tip the assembled 60-foot radio tower into a hole in the back yard at Cain's home on Swearingen Hill.

The family had moved Saturday from Weirton.

They apparently lost control of the swaying metal pole, and it fell into the nearby high power lines.

Fire department volunteers used a wooden ladder to lift the grounded tower from the power lines.

One of the 10 Oakland volunteer firemen who answered the alarm said he thought the smoke rising from the area as firemen approached was that from a house ablaze. However, he said, it was from the bodies of the victims.

Perry Sutton, a teacher at New Cumberland Junior High School and a next - door neighbor of the Cains, was the first on the scene.

He was summoned by another neighbor who was notified of the tragedy by a child who had been playing in the Cain yard.

LeMay Plans Inspection Of Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who declared over the weekend he favors resumption of full-scale bombing of North Vietnam, leaves tonight on a four-day war-zone inspection trip for presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

LeMay, after addressing the Women's National Press Club, will go to San Francisco first, leaving from there about 10 p.m. for the 23-hour flight to Saigon.

He is due to return Saturday in time to brief Wallace before the American Independent party candidate makes a nationwide television appearance the following day.

The former Air Force chief of staff, whom Wallace tapped as his running mate nearly two weeks ago, said Sunday he "very definitely" favors resuming bombing of North Vietnam on the scale it was done before March 21.

Industry Urges Conservation Of Water Reserves

INDUSTRY — Discussion was held on water problems by Council during a meeting Saturday at the borough building.

Daniel Gallagher, president, said the community's water supply is now "very low," and requested residents not to use water unnecessarily.

The borough water supply is fed by a spring on a hillside north of Route 68, and is stored in two 20,000 - gallon tanks. At present, only one tank is full.

An investigation is being conducted as the cause of the low reserve.

Bills totaling $20 were paid. The next meeting will be Nov. 2.

Greek Church Holds Memorial Ceremonies

A special service in memory of a number of district residents of Greek descent who have died in recent years was held at the Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Steubenville Sunday.

Fr. James Dimitros, pastor, was in charge. Some 18 East Liverpool residents attended the ceremonies.

USING HIS HEAD, Sean Connery, noted for his portrayal of the screen's supersleuth, James Bond, bounces a soccer ball in Los Angeles. At one time, the actor wanted to become a professional soccer player.

Injunction Case Motion Rejected

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Friday denied a motion seeking removal of a temporary injunction against Robert H. Arnold of 1982 Lisbon St.

Granted Aug. 13 on the petition of City Loan & Savings Co., 118 W. 5th St., the injunction required Arnold to discontinue his employment with Ohio Valley Loan Co., 104 E. 6th St.

City Loan went to court against Arnold after he quit the firm last June and became manager for Ohio Valley.

City Loan's suit was based on an employment contract Arnold signed with it in 1958. The agreement binds him not to enter into competition with City Loan within a radius of 25 miles of East Liverpool for one year after termination of employment.

Judge Buzzard heard arguments from both sides Friday and said he found no reason which would justify the court in dissolving the injunction.

convention," McCann continued, "was 'let's win this one for Ike'." Ike would say, "let's win this one for America and Nixon."

In describing his thoughts of the three candidates, McCann said, "Richard Nixon listens, weighs advice and counsel, thinking out decisions. Hubert Humphrey is a torrent of words. We don't have the dollars to use them in the Hubert Humphrey way."

"George Wallace may disrupt the political system, but also our way of life. I don't think he is a racist. I don't think he is a heckler, he isn't that smart," McCann stated.

McCann then spoke to the crowd about William Saxbe, candidate for the U. S. Senate. He said: "Saxbe is one of our most solid American citizens. Justice must be seasoned with mercy, and this Saxbe will do. He will speak out against exploiters. He will be one of the greatest senators in Ohio's tradition."

In speaking about Dr. James Sutherland and Rep. Wayne L. Hays, McCann said, "Hays' claim that he is the leading source of support of NATO and an authority on it is 'ridiculous and unfounded'. I am glad to find out what is wrong with NATO." He added, "it would do NATO good if we could get Hays out of it. NATO doesn't need Hays."

Referring to Southerland he said, "We have few people in Congress who really know about health and illness and the toll it takes against us. I have nothing against lawyers, but they don't know much about health."

—:—

McCANN concluded by saying, "A party is no better than its foundation. We need a strong party down to the grass roots. It is a time when our nation demands Republican strength. Friends need to take a second place in building the strong Republican ticket."

James Shipley of Salem, toastmaster, spoke briefly about the county candidates and the importance of every vote.

Barbara Bansberger of Homeworth led the Pledge of Allegiance and Walter Cope of Lisbon led the singing of the National Anthem.

The Rev. Fred A. Shiltz of the Lisbon Methodist Church offered the invocation and benediction.

Mrs. Janet Mollenkopf, Columbiana County Republican chairwoman, introduced the guests. Ford L. McQuilkin, county Republican chairman, introduced the candidates with assistance of former chairman Charles Pike.

McQUILKIN cautioned the group not to be misled by the criticism they are reading and by what is being said. "Look at the overall picture," he said.

"Richard Nixon will be our next president, Saxbe our senator, and Sutherland our 18th District congressman," he said.

He also stressed the importance of county candidates of the Republican party being elected. He said, "Some charges being leveled against some of our people are not going unnoticed, but we are concerned only with giving our people good government." He commented on the interest monies realized by the short term investments made by the county commissioners, saying the county treasurer was against this

He also commented that filing of records was behind schedule in the county recorder's office," and perhaps this would not be so if the recorder was not spending so much time campaigning.

Three other passengers—Miss Fargo Harding, 19, of Cleveland Heights, Jeff Headman, 19, of Ashtabula, and James Krabill, 21, of Minerva also were injured and detained at the hospital. Eleanor Parks, 19, of Pittsburgh, the sixth passenger, was treated and released.

She was affiliated with the Alpha Chi Omega sorority at the college.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two brothers, Mark Stover and Scott Stover, at home, and a sister, Barbara Stover, also at home, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. William H. Vodrey Sr. of East Liverpool.

A Resurrection Mass will be celebrated at St. Aloysius Catholic Church Tuesday morning at 9:30. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Dawson Funeral Home today and this evening.

got a strike vote from his union membership Sunday night, told newsmen today that "acts of terrorism and violence have taken place" at Junior High School 271 in Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville community school district.

"A Negro assistant principal has been terrorized," Shanker said, "and teachers have been locked up in rooms and told they were going to be killed—and the mayor (John V. Lindsay) refused to do anything about it."

He said parents and other teachers "fear their schools are going to be next."

Three policemen were shot and wounded on duty outside a school in the district Sunday night, as union members were voting strike authorization several miles away in Manhattan.

Even trees have rest periods. During these periods, which may vary in length of duration, there is little or no elongation of the shoot.

It is: Restyled inside and out with a great new grille, new bumpers, new round parking lights, new instrument panel, new steering wheel, new striping, and new colors including Hugger Orange, which is wild.

It is: Full of new features including a quieter driveline. Bigger outlets for the Astro Ventilation. A 210-hp standard V8; lock for the steering column, ignition and transmission lever.

It is: Available with a resilient body-color front bumper, new variable ratio power steering, and (get this) a little device that washes your headlights when you hold the windshield washer button in.

It is: Still affectionately nicknamed "The Hugger."

It is: Still wider and weightier than the rival sportster we're too polite to name.

You should drive a 1969 Camaro at your Chevrolet dealer's the first chance you get.

People And Prejudices

Some frank and straightforward discussions at Midland's human relations workshop Saturday got down to the fundamentals of fear, misunderstanding, prejudice and hatred—by blacks and whites.

And regardless of the stereotypes of false images and right or wrong accusations, the basic point of the gathering centered on the relationships of human beings to other human beings.

The unfortunate aspect of the workshop was that although many of the borough's citizens turned out to listen and talk over issues and suggest solutions, far too few did.

ONE PENNSYLVANIA Human Relations Commision aide, for example, spoke of the apprehension of whites about having blacks move next door to them, and went on to say there had not yet been documented any single case in which property values deteriorated because Negroes had purchased or rented homes in any part of any city. But the people who have objected to sales of homes to Negroes were not there to hear this, or to question him about it.

These attitudes are not alone Midland's, but of East Liverpool, Wellsville and almost every community across this nation. One specific difference is that in Midland, re-newed efforts are being made to communicate.

When one gets to the heart of so many of the attitudes on both sides of the racial fence, one cannot help but be amused and at the same time, disheartened—amused to the same degree we are about the medical theories of the 17th Century on bleeding and the harm of night air, or the predictions of the 19th Century that man will never fly; disheartened that people in the 209th Century still cannot recognize each other as people, with the same problems and faults, the same talents and virtues.

THE LATEST Gallup poll on law and order indicated that of all-white adults interviewed in a national survey, 35 per cent say they are fearful of using the streets at night. But for Negroes, the figure is 40 per cent.

Another survey on education and desegregation by the Phi Delta Kappa Commission on Education and Human Rights concluded that integration increases the learning of Negro children and does not change the learning rate of white children.

In the integrated, middle - class Lee-Seville section of Cleveland, Negro residents have opposed a proposed low-cost housing development in their area for Negroes of the inner city. One black woman said she was against handing out to poor people what she and her neighbors had worked hard to gain.

What we have in America is not so much a race problem as a people problem—that under black, white, yellow and brown skin people are just people, and we all ought to treat people a lot better.

Organ Service

Interest in heart transplants is credited with greatly assisting the creation of a transplant organ service in Ohio. As a result, more than 500 prospective donors of organs are enrolled in a new service of Medic Alert Foundation.

Ohio law permits persons over 21 years of age to designate their organs for medical use after death. The Buckeye State is considered one of the progressive states in this respect.

The foundation hopes that, in the future, organ donor registration may reach 300,000 which is the current number of individuals who wear the Medic Alert insignia on their wrists or around their necks to warn of a hidden medical problem.

The concept of assisting someone else to live a more normal life by "willing" them a part of yourself after death seems to be growing in popularity. It is an idea well worth considering.

Wishful Thinking

One of the world's better-known clairvoyants predicted recently that the Vietnam War would be terminated within a matter of a few weeks.

Certain possibilities are developing which could bear him out.

In Paris, where a flick of the eyelid by one of the negotiators can be interpreted as a change in position, there are new signs that something may be in the wind.

SPECULATING CENTERING about these signs suggests the North Vietnamese are reading the political polls and becoming fearful that Richard Nixon will be the next president of the United States.

Apparently convinced that they can obtain better peace terms (from their point of view) from a Democrat than from a Republican, they may be ready to settle for just that.

Rather than risk the possibility of dealing with Mr. Nixon, they may have concluded that President Johnson's terms will be as good as they can get.

Knowing that the President would be delighted to leave office with the war settled and peace restored, they have good reason to believe that he would be generous in final negotiations if he were assured that an "honorable" peace is just around the corner.

Assuming that the North Vietnamese are not quite ready to abandon their aggression, they may be reasoning a little more deviously to this effect: by hinting and moving diplomatically to give the impression that the negotiations are succeeding and the war is all but over, the Vietnam issue could be largely removed as a key in the final weeks of the campaign.

This should give the Democratic candidate additional strength and hopefully (again from the North Vietnamese point of view) victory in the election.

THEN BY A SUDDEN REVERSAL of policy, on some trumped-up charge, the North Vietnamese could go back to their present adamant stand and seek to write a peace accord on their terms.

In this they would be encouraged by the recent statements by Mr. Humphrey which have been far more conciliatory than those of his two major opponents for the office of president.

But let us hope the seer is correct and that an honorable peace is just a few weeks away, despite the fact there still is considerable cause for doubt.

No Best Seller

The Soviet Union apparently is trying a new form of brainwashing in Czechoslovakia.

In an effort to persuade the Czech citizens that the Russians actually saved them from the "Counter revolutionaries and the "anti-socialist forces," the Soviet Union is attempting to circulate thousands of copies of a "White Book" which is the Moscow version or explanation of the Aug. 21 invasion.

But, initially at least, the Czechs are rejecting the books and reports from througout the nation indicate that they are firmly but politely declining to accept them.

The Czechoslovakians have been compelled by force to live with the Russian occupation but they don't have to like it. The White Book will not make the best seller list in their country.

The Conglomerates

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Almost every day you pick up the newspaper, some company is merging with another company. The average person has no idea what is happening but it could eventually affect everybody in the United States.

Art Buchwald

What it boils down to is that if you merge an apple company with another apple company, you're violating the antitrust laws. But if you merge an apple company with a banana company, then you're building a conglomerate; and whether you know it or not, conglomerates are the "in" things to own.

This is how conglomerates work.

LET US SAY that Dalinsky's Drugstore in Georgetown decides to merge with Fischetti's Meat Market in Bethesda, Md. Since neither Dalinsky nor Fischetti can agree on whose name to use, they call the company the Great American Drug and Meat Co.

They issue stock and it is immediately sold out, because any company that has the words "great," "American," "drug" and "meat" in it must have potential. Now, with the stock from their company, they make a bid to take over the Aetna Curtain Co., offering Aetna stockholders one share of GADAM for every two shares of Aetna.

Once the deal is completed they go to the bank and borrow $500,000 on the Aetna Curtain Co. to buy the Markay Life Insurance Co.

Then, using the money in the Markay Life Insurance Co., they make a bid on the Mary Smith Pie and Bakery Co., offering 1½ shares of Markay for 1 2-3 shares of Mary Smith.

IT TURNS OUT THAT Mary Smith Pie and Bakery has a $3 million surplus cash flow, so Dalinsky and Fischetti use this cash flow to buy the Carey Winston Life Preserver Co., which, in spite of its name, specializes in the building of Nike missiles.

With government contracts from the Carey Winston Life Preserver Co. as collateral, GADAM buys the Washington Green Sox baseball team, which it merges with the Norfolk Warriors, a basketball team that loses money but can come in handy to write off the profits of a TV station that GADAM is bidding on in Winnipeg.

With these companies as a nucleus, Dalinsky and Fischetti decide to make more acquistions because, as Dalinsky tells a Time magazine reporter who is doing a cover story on him titled the "Boy Wonder of Georgetown," "If you stand still you die."

The next step for GADAM is to go to the First Citizens Bank of Wesley Heights and borrow $20 million against the stock. With this money, Dalinsky and Fischetti buy the Second Citizens Bank of Culpepper and then use the stock to purchase the First Citizens Bank of Wesley Heights.

FROM THERE IS IS only a matter of time before GADAM starts a mutual fund, a fried chicken franchise company, a Puerto Rican rum plant and a senior citizen's apartment complex in Fairbanks, Alaska.

In less than three years Dalinsky, who put up $30, and Fischetti, who put up $25, control $3 billion worth of businesses and are each worth, on paper, $50 million.

The only danger is that if either Dalinsky's Drugstore or Fischetti's Meat Market lose the lease on its store the whole conglomerate pyramid could fall down. When you get right down to it, that's the only part of their business that Dalinsky and Fischetti understand.

'Shut Up And Head For Vietnam'

VICTOR RIESEL

Bonanza For Muscle Men

WASHINGTON — Point is: Would you trust a murderer, an arsonist, a rapist, a bludgeoner or a dope pusher with some 100 billion dollars?

You wouldn't? Well, there is a tight band of congressman who would. They so voted—quietly and unobserved—while the citizenry has been busy watching the theatrics of the presidential campaign.

Victor Riesel

For some psychedelic reason, a majority of the House Committee on Education and Labor voted out a bill which would permit murderers—convicted ones at that—kidnapper, narcotic addicts and men who rent out muscle, to serve as directors, executives, administrators and officials of pension and welfare funds running well over $100 billion.

So awesomely behemoth are these funds, that in two decades they'll have more investing money than the insurance industry, since there is today over $100 billion in pension funds alone. The funds are growing at the rate of eight to ten billion annually. Welfare funds are self-liquidating—and total over $14 billion annually.

Yet, during the past few months, the administration dropped a bill into the hopper to protect these monies, and when the final draft rolled out of the labor committee to the Rules Committee it opened the way for the Cosa Nostra, murderers, and what the labor movement calls "gorillas."

SO THAT SOME 30 million folk will know what may happen to their private pension funds, here's the flow of one of the most exotic adventures of what must be a topless committee, ethically speaking.

Back in 1958, the Eisenhower administration realized that there's real money in the newfangled pension and welfare funds being won by unions and being organized by big corporations. At the time, there was about $40 billion in the funds. Some of this money, such as in the auto and communication fields, was, and is, administered solely by industry.

Some of the funds were handled directly by unions, and some were jointly controlled, and labor, being more active, dominated the joint administrative boards.

For honest union leaders, this was a chance to take advice from such nationally famed financial institutions as Chase Manhattan.

For the chislers, this was the chance to loot 'legally," pay off lawyers, cut in on real estate investments and share "finer's fees." Around it all buzzed the Cosa Nostra—clear and loud.

Then came a Senatorial probe, which was paid little interest, though the hoods, especially in Chicago and New York, sent word to probers they'd kill them and their sources.

Finally, in '58, the Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act was passed. This merely demanded filing of reports for public scrutiny. If you didn't file, you could be really scolded, and maybe fined a few pennies. Then the monies began piling up.

BY 1965, THE FIGURE (aside from state and federal funds) was $75 billion. By 1966, it was $85 billion. Today it runs up to $104 billion according to such specialists as the Martin E. Segal Co.

Of this total—astronomical even by today's insouciant count—labor control or dominates or strongly influences about $11 billion. This total takes a great leap forward of about one billion dollars a year.

So the House labor committee took a long look at the old law, which needed revising in the interests of the people, industry and those counting on the money for bread and comfort in their old age

And not so old at that since workers are beginning to retire now at 40 years of age in such fields as maritime and transit.

The 1958 pension act, among other matters, banned from any contract with the monies, convicted Communists and criminals. They could not be hired by a pension or welfare fund except as clerks or janitors.

Even the latter clause was abused by ex-convicts.

SO, THE LABOR COMMITTEE decided to strengthen the act. This it did in a strange way. It said the embezzlers, robbers, extortioners, bribers, and grand larcenists could not be employed except as clerks or custodians.

However, the House labor committee removed from the list of those banned under the old act—burglars, arsonists, narcotic addicts and pushers, murderers, rapists, kidnappers, perpurers, and those convicted of assault with intent to kill, assault which inflicts grevious bodily injury, or conspiracy to commit any such crime.

The bill, for lack of time, dies in the Rules Committee. But it will be rolled out during the next sesson. If the same members of the House labor committee are returned, the bill will pass and become law.

Thus, despite the underworld's invasion of funds, each worth anywhere from 10 to 400 million dollars, the way will be opened for the mob to muscle in on other funds, now carefully guarded by decent labor and business executives.

Berry's World

"Let's put it this way — how many votes do you think Humphrey and Nixon will take away from Wallace?"

RAYMOND MOLEY

Why Vote Independent?

This piece is written in the hope that it may be read by some of the good Americans who say they are going to vote for George Wallace. It is not the sort of attack upon the former Alabama governor which Hubert Humphrey is making.

That sort of thing merely serves to cement Wallace support. For while I believe that much of the Wallace support is rooted in a sense of frustration, there are rational faculties to which appeal may still be made.

I grant that much of what Wallace says articulates what millions of Americans are feeling and thinking. That is the mood which emerges in these trouble-ridden times. And Wallace is a plausible exponent of that mood. One of his favorite expressions is this:

"SOME OF THE NEWSPAPERS are writing that the only reason George Wallace has any support is that he is saying what the people want to hear. Well, what's wrong about that?"

Some months ago I had a long talk with him in his suite in the Plaza Hotel in New York. He was calm, quiet and for the most part entirely reasonable. The negative part of what he had to say could hardly be denied. His recital of the ills with which our society is afflicted and the mismanagement of our government also could hardly be denied.

But I left with the feeling that the remedies he proposed certainly could not justify any reasonable person to believe that voting for him could in any way provide a remedy for our present discontents.

I am assuming that most of those thousands who applaud at his rallies want nothing more than to register a protest. They cannot believe that he could be elected. If they did, they would have to make an appraisal of Wallace sitting in the White House grappling with a Congress composed of members of two parties which he has denounced and defiled. That would produce unbelievable national paralysis.

In the first place it is too late for a protest vote. The two political parties, after a fair contest, have chosen two duly nominated candidates. The system through which those nominations were made is the product of an evolution since the age of Jackson 140 years ago.

IN A PERIOD of recurring revolutions abroad it has, except for the 1861-1865 tragedy, seen stable government and unparalleled economic and social development. That system, as John C. Calhoun, who long before Wallace was born advocated state's rights, said, has its own built-in method of protest.

The one party governs, the other stands guard, and when the electorate so decides, it takes over. The means for change is to vote for the party out of power. And George Wallace, until this year, did pretty well in the two-party system.

In the course of our political evolution there were adopted Amendments 12 and 20 to our Constitution. These relate to the election and inauguration of the president. They provide for the election of a president by the House if, as is possible this year, none of the candidates gets the 270 majority of the electoral vote.

The House which would elect in this case is the one to be elected this November. And the vote there must be between Jan. 6 and 20. The vote is by states, and each state casts its vote according to the majority of members from that state.

If, as is possible, Wallace should carry the great arc of states south and west from Virginia to Texas, with the possible addition of Arkansas and Tennessee, Humphrey might win all or most of those 10 states. And with what he might get from the remaining 40 states could be elected, although he would probably receive less than a plurality of the popular and electoral vote.

HE WOULD, as president, face a most uncertain Senate majority and almost certainly a Republican House. And also a solid of majority of Republican state governors. That would be a sure presceiption for an unstable and possibly chaotic regime. And the majority of Americans would be denied the change which they had voted for.

In short, by voting for Wallace, these people would be getting exactly what they are protesting against.

There is tragic irony in such an outcome which should be apparent to every good American who plans to vote for George Wallace.

VICTOR RIESEL

Bonanza For Muscle Men

WASHINGTON — Point is: Would you trust a murderer, an arsonist, a rapist, a bludgeoner or a dope pusher with some 100 billion dollars?

You wouldn't? Well, there is a tight band of congressman who would. They so voted—quietly and unobserved—while the citizenry has been busy watching the theatrics of the presidential campaign.

Victor Riesel

For some psychedelic reason, a majority of the House Committee on Education and Labor voted out a bill which would permit murderers—convicted ones at that—kidnapper, narcotic addicts and men who rent out muscle, to serve as directors, executives, administrators and officials of pension and welfare funds running well over $100 billion.

So awesomely behemoth are these funds, that in two decades they'll have more investing money than the insurance industry, since there is today over $100 billion in pension funds alone. The funds are growing at the rate of eight to ten billion annually. Welfare funds are self-liquidating—and total over $14 billion annually.

Yet, during the past few months, the administration dropped a bill into the hopper to protect these monies, and when the final draft rolled out of the labor committee to the Rules Committee it opened the way for the Cosa Nostra, murderers, and what the labor movement calls "gorillas."

SO THAT SOME 30 million folk will know what may happen to their private pension funds, here's the flow of one of the most exotic adventures of what must be a topless committee, ethically speaking.

Back in 1958, the Eisenhower administration realized that there's real money in the newfangled pension and welfare funds being won by unions and being organized by big corporations. At the time, there was about $40 billion in the funds. Some of this money, such as in the auto and communication fields, was, and is, administered solely by industry.

Some of the funds were handled directly by unions, and some were jointly controlled, and labor, being more active, dominated the joint administrative boards.

For honest union leaders, this was a chance to take advice from such nationally famed financial institutions as Chase Manhattan.

For the chislers, this was the chance to loot 'legally," pay off lawyers, cut in on real estate investments and share "finer's fees." Around it all buzzed the Cosa Nostra—clear and loud.

Then came a Senatorial probe, which was paid little interest, though the hoods, especially in Chicago and New York, sent word to probers they'd kill them and their sources.

Finally, in '58, the Welfare and Pension Plans Disclosure Act was passed. This merely demanded filing of reports for public scrutiny. If you didn't file, you could be really scolded, and maybe fined a few pennies. Then the monies began piling up.

BY 1965, THE FIGURE (aside from state and federal funds) was $75 billion. By 1966, it was $85 billion. Today it runs up to $104 billion according to such specialists as the Martin E. Segal Co.

Of this total—astronomical even by today's insouciant count—labor control or dominates or strongly influences about $11 billion. This total takes a great leap forward of about one billion dollars a year.

So the House labor committee took a long look at the old law, which needed revising in the interests of the people, industry and those counting on the money for bread and comfort in their old age

And not so old at that since workers are beginning to retire now at 40 years of age in such fields as maritime and transit.

The 1958 pension act, among other matters, banned from any contract with the monies, convicted Communists and criminals. They could not be hired by a pension or welfare fund except as clerks or janitors.

Even the latter clause was abused by ex-convicts.

SO, THE LABOR COMMITTEE decided to strengthen the act. This it did in a strange way. It said the embezzlers, robbers, extortioners, bribers, and grand larcenists could not be employed except as clerks or custodians.

However, the House labor committee removed from the list of those banned under the old act—burglars, arsonists, narcotic addicts and pushers, murderers, rapists, kidnappers, perpurers, and those convicted of assault with intent to kill, assault which inflicts grevious bodily injury, or conspiracy to commit any such crime.

The bill, for lack of time, dies in the Rules Committee. But it will be rolled out during the next sesson. If the same members of the House labor committee are returned, the bill will pass and become law.

Thus, despite the underworld's invasion of funds, each worth anywhere from 10 to 400 million dollars, the way will be opened for the mob to muscle in on other funds, now carefully guarded by decent labor and business executives.

Berry's World

"Let's put it this way — how many votes do you think Humphrey and Nixon will take away from Wallace?"

RAYMOND MOLEY

Why Vote Independent?

This piece is written in the hope that it may be read by some of the good Americans who say they are going to vote for George Wallace. It is not the sort of attack upon the former Alabama governor which Hubert Humphrey is making.

That sort of thing merely serves to cement Wallace support. For while I believe that much of the Wallace support is rooted in a sense of frustration, there are rational faculties to which appeal may still be made.

I grant that much of what Wallace says articulates what millions of Americans are feeling and thinking. That is the mood which emerges in these trouble-ridden times. And Wallace is a plausible exponent of that mood. One of his favorite expressions is this:

"SOME OF THE NEWSPAPERS are writing that the only reason George Wallace has any support is that he is saying what the people want to hear. Well, what's wrong about that?"

Some months ago I had a long talk with him in his suite in the Plaza Hotel in New York. He was calm, quiet and for the most part entirely reasonable. The negative part of what he had to say could hardly be denied. His recital of the ills with which our society is afflicted and the mismanagement of our government also could hardly be denied.

But I left with the feeling that the remedies he proposed certainly could not justify any reasonable person to believe that voting for him could in any way provide a remedy for our present discontents.

I am assuming that most of those thousands who applaud at his rallies want nothing more than to register a protest. They cannot believe that he could be elected. If they did, they would have to make an appraisal of Wallace sitting in the White House grappling with a Congress composed of members of two parties which he has denounced and defiled. That would produce unbelievable national paralysis.

In the first place it is too late for a protest vote. The two political parties, after a fair contest, have chosen two duly nominated candidates. The system through which those nominations were made is the product of an evolution since the age of Jackson 140 years ago.

IN A PERIOD of recurring revolutions abroad it has, except for the 1861-1865 tragedy, seen stable government and unparalleled economic and social development. That system, as John C. Calhoun, who long before Wallace was born advocated state's rights, said, has its own built-in method of protest.

The one party governs, the other stands guard, and when the electorate so decides, it takes over. The means for change is to vote for the party out of power. And George Wallace, until this year, did pretty well in the two-party system.

In the course of our political evolution there were adopted Amendments 12 and 20 to our Constitution. These relate to the election and inauguration of the president. They provide for the election of a president by the House if, as is possible this year, none of the candidates gets the 270 majority of the electoral vote.

The House which would elect in this case is the one to be elected this November. And the vote there must be between Jan. 6 and 20. The vote is by states, and each state casts its vote according to the majority of members from that state.

If, as is possible, Wallace should carry the great arc of states south and west from Virginia to Texas, with the possible addition of Arkansas and Tennessee, Humphrey might win all or most of those 10 states. And with what he might get from the remaining 40 states could be elected, although he would probably receive less than a plurality of the popular and electoral vote.

HE WOULD, as president, face a most uncertain Senate majority and almost certainly a Republican House. And also a solid of majority of Republican state governors. That would be a sure presceiption for an unstable and possibly chaotic regime. And the majority of Americans would be denied the change which they had voted for.

In short, by voting for Wallace, these people would be getting exactly what they are protesting against.

There is tragic irony in such an outcome which should be apparent to every good American who plans to vote for George Wallace.

Rx: "Take Thou"

The "Rx" symbol you see on your doctor's prescription dates back to 5,000 years ago when Egyptians drew the sacred falcon standing on its perch to represent the highest divinity. A simplification of this drawing, similar to the modern "Rx," became a sign used as an invocation to the sun-god Horus to shed lightness upon the mysteries of disease. Later when sourcery and superstition ruled the ways of medicine it was used as a magic talisman to ward off ill health . . . and today it remains on prescriptions — an ancient symbol expressing your doctor's best wishes to you for a speedy recovery.

Patricia Neal Applauded At Film Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Surrounded by old friends from show business, a "very happy and relieved" Patricia Neal watched Sunday night the first movie she's made since she suffered two crippling strokes almost four years ago.

"'I'm just delighted,' she said as she arrived for the premiere of the film version of "The Subject Was Roses," Frank D. Gilroy's Pulitzer Prize winning play.

Several hundred motion picture and stage stars turned out to applaud Miss Neal at the premiere and to toast her at a post-opening party at Sardi's.

Miss Neal, 42, was stricken in February 1965, while filming in Hollywood. The two strokes left the Academy Award-winning actress partially paralyzed and unable to speak.

"When the producer and director came to me and asked me to do the film, I didn't think I could," said Miss Neal Sunday night. "But my husband thought I could," she added, looking at Roald Dahl, the British mystery writer to whom she has been married for more than 15 years and the person she credits with encouraging her recovery.

The movie tells the story of an Irish-American family in the Bronx just after World War II.

Jacques Cartier took possession of Canada for France in 1534.

Announcing the same old thing from Ohio Power.

There's only one trouble with reducing your rates five times in five-and-a-half years.

The fifth time you do it, it's sort of old news.

Nevertheless, that's what we're doing. Asking the Public Utilities Commission for permission to reduce our rates. Again.

When the new rate takes effect, if you use the same amount of electricity you've been using, chances are you'll get a lower bill from us.

The reason is simple.

In the electricity business the more you produce, the more efficiently you can produce it. And since 1963, the homes, businesses and industries we supply have increased their use of electricity so much that we've been able to produce it much more efficiently. So much more efficiently in fact, that our average price for electricity is the lowest in Ohio.

And now it's lower still.

So go turn on the television. And the lights. And the washing machine. And the dishwasher.

And don't worry.

If things keep going like they've been going, we'll probably be announcing the same old thing all over again.

Nixon To End Campaign With 'Three-Week Blitz'

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon promises to wind up his presidential campaign with "a three-week blitz" which he says will be designed to create "maximum momentum Nov. 5."

Nixon used the blitz phrase in an interview filmed last week for Dallas television station WFAA and made public here by his campaign staff Sunday night.

Nixon, spending a long weekend in a seaside home borrowed from Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., meets today with key aides—flown from New York—to plan the final stages of his campaign.

In his Dallas interview, the candidate was asked if perhaps his campaign had already reached its peak. He said:

"This year I have always been aiming this campaign for the last three weeks. We are going to have a three week blitz in which we cover every major state very heavily . . . with personal appearances, with television . . . just watch where we are on election day, because everything that we have planned is moving toward having our maximum momentum at Nov. 5."

Nixon, in a second interview with Dallas TV station KRLD, broadcast Sunday, said his campaign is going pretty much as planned and "that Mr. Humphrey hasn't gotten off the ground as much as I thought he would."

In Weekend Accidents

Fall Injures Local Girl; Hospital Treats 24 More

A city girl injured in a fall from a horse Sunday was admitted to City Hospital, where 24 others were treated, including six hurt playing football over the weekend.

Freda Carnes, daughter of Eileen Carnes of 466 Orchard Grove Ave. was in "fair" condition today with a scalp laceration and a contusion of the head sustained when her head struck a rock as she fell from a horse.

Nixon To End Campaign With 'Three-Week Blitz'

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon promises to wind up his presidential campaign with "a three-week blitz" which he says will be designed to create "maximum momentum Nov. 5."

Nixon used the blitz phrase in an interview filmed last week for Dallas television station WFAA and made public here by his campaign staff Sunday night.

Nixon, spending a long weekend in a seaside home borrowed from Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., meets today with key aides—flown from New York—to plan the final stages of his campaign.

In his Dallas interview, the candidate was asked if perhaps his campaign had already reached its peak. He said:

"This year I have always been aiming this campaign for the last three weeks. We are going to have a three week blitz in which we cover every major state very heavily . . . with personal appearances, with television . . . just watch where we are on election day, because everything that we have planned is moving toward having our maximum momentum at Nov. 5."

Nixon, in a second interview with Dallas TV station KRLD, broadcast Sunday, said his campaign is going pretty much as planned and "that Mr. Humphrey hasn't gotten off the ground as much as I thought he would."

The DOCTOR Says

Waukegan Solves 'Sniffers' Problem

A distraught mother writes that her son, 13, has been sniffing glue and she wants to know what harmful effects could occur. Inhaling the plastic cement used to make model airplanes leads to chronic poisoning of the liver, heart, kidneys, bone marrow and brain. A real jag may cause loss of consciousness. Most youngsters will stop this dangerous habit when the dangers are explained to them in an unemotional manner and not as a sermon on juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Brandstadt

SEVERAL YEARS ago the city of Waukegan, Ill., considered whether or not to pass an ordinance against glue sniffing. Some feared that such an act might call attention to this practice and aggravate the problem. The ordinance was passed, however, and the results have been excellent.

—:—

THE LAW DOES not limit the amount of glue a merchant may sell so long as the buyer signs a register. Every month the police check the registers. If a boy is found to be buying many tubes in different stores, this is taken as prima - facie evidence that he is a glue sniffer and the case is further investigated. Very few cases are being discovered.

—:—

ONE MERCHANT reported to the police that a boy tried to buy more than a dozen tubes but that he refused to sell them. The law neither required him to refuse to sell nor to report the incident to the police but this kind of public - spirited cooperation has helped to solve the problem in Waukegan.

—:—

Q—Our son, 14, started smoking and now, to his apparent chagrin, he says he can't stop. He says he forgets his troubles while he is smoking. His cigarettes are a standard brand but I didn't think it was possible to get hooked so strongly on regular cigarettes. What do you think?

A—Yes, it is a fact that a person can get psychically and physically hooked on regular cigarettes. Since no self-reliant person wants to be a slave to any kind of a habit, this is a strong reason for your son to quit now. The well-known health hazards are another good reason. The longer your son puts off quitting, the harder it is likely to be. But it will depend on his sincerity in wanting to kick the habit and his inherent power to do so.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I enhance the flavor of beef roasts?

A.—The next time you're preparing a roast beef, spread a thin coating of mustard over the top, and this will add a delicious flavor. Or, make slits in the roast and tuck in as much thyme as you can. Add salt and pepper, and roast as usual.

Q.—How can I remove burnt spots on granite?

A.—By covering these spots with baking soda mixed to a paste with water, then heating it. Never scrape with a knife.

Q.—How can I prevent Chinese and Indian matting rugs, as well as bamboo curtains, from yellowing?

A.—By cleaning them with salt water.

Q. — How can I pull out the shortest threads in a seam without ripping the fabric?

A. — By using a pair of tweezers for this chore.

Negro Major Raps Racism

SAIGON (AP)—A Negro major charged on Sunday that the "American military services are the strongest citadels of racism on the face of the earth." Today he was transferred to a new job and said he was happy about the change.

The Army officer, Maj. Lavell Merritt of Chicago, said he had asked some time ago to be transferred from the training section of MACV, the Military Assistance Command Vietnam, because he said there was discrimination in the section. He said he was transferred today to MACV's operations section.

Merritt, 40, gave newsmen an eight-page statement Sunday in which he told of Negro officers laughing when a white officer "tells the funniest nigger story he knows."

"The black military officer group is the largest collection of identifiable accommodationists in America," he said. "The real tragedy, of course, was in our self-denial of manhood."

Sources at MACV headquarters said they understood Merritt had requested a transfer several weeks ago "because he was unhappy there." They said he became eligible for promotion to lieutenant colonel in 1966 but was passed over three times.

Merritt said he will complete 20 years in the Army in January "and I'll have to take my retirement then." Other officers said Merritt as a reserve officer is required to retire on completion of 20 years of service.

Merritt said that when he leaves the Army he plans to "go back to school and get a teaching certificate. The government is asking for teachers in the ghetto, and that's where I want to teach, in my ghetto in Chicago."

2 Lisbon Accidents Damage Fire Truck, Police Cruiser

LISBON — The police cruiser and the fire department tanker were involved in traffic mishaps Saturday.

Patrolman John Vokovich, 40, said he was driving south on N. Market St. Hill at 2:35 p.m. when a two-door sedan pulled onto Market from E. Chestnut and struck the left front fender and door of the 1967 cruiser.

Norman H. Jones, 48, of Lisbon RD 4, was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way. Police said there was no damage to the Jones car and about $75 damage to the cruiser.

The other accident occurred at 10:45 p.m. as firemen responded to a call that a house was on fire opposite the gas company building.

Police said Harold Adams, 35, of Lisbon RD 5, drove the white tanker west on N. Park Ave. and turned north onto Market St., damaging two parked cars.

The trailer caught the left rear corner of a 1963 sedan owned by Albert Hayes of Columbiana and knocked it forward into the rear of a 1966 station wagon owned by Harry B. Orr Sr., 41, of Akron. Both cars were parked at the east curb on Market. There was no arrest.

Firemen went to the gas pumping station on the Leetonia Rd. but could not find the fire. Meanwhile, the dispatcher at the jail learned the fire was in Glenmoor opposite the Ohio Valley Gas Co. building and had been extinguished by Glenmoor firemen.

Coleman Poynter, 19, of Lisbon RD 1, cited Sunday for reckless operation and no operator's license, forfeited appearance bonds of $25 and $10, respectively.

Where You'll Build Takes Thought

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Fall is the time when many people do their spring house shopping.

They read every word in newspaper house sections, flip through books and catalogs on the subject, investigate builders, development planners, the pros and cons of readymade as against custom-built houses.

Then they go through winter having serious doubts about their decisions.

One woman worries because they will be the first in an area being developed. Are there disadvantages, she asks.

There are many disadvantages being first in an area. The chief one may be that one doesn't know where one's neighbor-to-be will put a house. Will he shut out your light, air and view? Will his driveway abut your property so that you are always aware of him?

IF THE site owner is doing the development, it may be possible to wrench an agreement from him that houses on either side of you will be built a reasonable distance from yours, assuming there is the land. Houses built close together often cause neighbor problems.

A sincere builder may sometimes find the situation out of his control. He may begin to build and find that for one reason or another he is not able to put a house where he planned to put it, and then even if you have four acres and your neighbor has one, you may find a house a stone's throw away.

Another woman's problem is that she would like to have neighbors and to deter her husband from building a house too far from the road. She fears the long driveway will create extra expenses such as for snow shoveling, replacing gravel washouts and landscaping.

Her husband wants his house different from others in the upper-bracket community, and he plans to use the plants and trees in a natural landscaping plan. His wife doesn't like the idea of the house being behind a thicket of trees and bushes.

A HOUSE with a long driveway does have added distinction. Usually, when it is sold it will bring a far larger price than houses of the same design built right on the road.

This should more than offset the added expenditures incurred such as snow plowing in winter. With so many trees being cut, birds and other small animals are being chased from their habitats, and they will gravitate to such an area, that should be a joy to the house occupants.

The one thing that might be considered about such a setting is the isolation. If a homemaker has qualms about being in a situation where she cannot even see a neighbor, it would be better to forgo such a house. One woman confesses that she was so frightened when living in a house shaded by trees that she slept with a baseball bat under her bed whenever she was alone.

ANOTHER couple is debating the pros and cons of where to put their house. She'd like it nestled into a craggy area. He would like it on a knoll near the road for easy access in winter.

His wife thinks he is being too finicky as other houses in the area are built away from the road and she doesn't believe they encounter too many problems.

One advantage of a house on a hill usually is that the cellar will remain dry while other house basements in the area are flooded. A dry cellar can be a tremendous asset in an area even if precipitation is normal.

But there are certain disadvantages—it must be well-planned or it will look like a bump on a log; landscaping may be difficult and costly, and you may have to take a house style that is less to your liking.

These problems can be worked out by professionals and it is wise to consult them before you set your heart on some idea that is not workable.

Pickled Pine Tips Offered

AP Newsfeatures

Question: I'd like to put a pickled finish on some pine wood furniture I bought. There's nothing on it now, although it is well-sanded. Can you help me?

Answer: Pickled pine means different shades to different persons. We have seen pickled pine furniture ranging from a greenish gray to a very light gray. from an old-time method of weathering wood in vinegar and pickling vats.

One of the present methods of pickling pine is to bleach it with a commercial mixture, then apply a coat of paste white tinted with raw umber and black. Wipe the surface with a clean cloth, leaving a very thin coating.

When it is thoroughly dry, apply a self-polishing wax, following the directions on the container of the particular brand you buy. However, some manufacturers are now putting out special pickled pine finishes that may save you some work.

—:—

QUESTION: We have a small second bathroom in an old house. I'd like to put ceramic tiles on the floor. Is it difficult?

—:—

ANSWER: It's not difficult, but it does require careful work. You didn't say what kind of floor is now in the bathroom. Among the suitable surfaces are level concrete, wood floors in good condition and half-inch or thicker exterior-type plywood over a subfloor. The main thing is that the surface must be smooth.

The small unglazed tiles come pasted on sheets of paper approximately one foot wide and two feet long. The joints are already the proper width. The adhesive must be spread thinly, otherwise it will work up between the joints. Set the sheets of tile in place with the paper-ed side uppermost.

Align the sheets carefully and press them into the exact position as soon as possible. Use a ready-made grout. Remove excess grout from the tile with a damp sponge or cloth. The grouted joints should be wet down with a sponge two or three times a day for a few days so that the group will "cure" properly.

Health Board Gives Tips On Gas Hazards

The City Health Board reminded today that the beginning of a new heating season means that householders should check their stoves and furnaces for the potential danger of carbon monoxide gas poisoning.

Health Commissioner Jack Bonner pointed out the deadly gas is produced by incomplete combustion of fuel — gas, wood, coal and so forth. Any furnace or stove is capable of producing the gas when combustion is not complete, he added.

Bonner issued these tips for householders:

Do not use an unvented space heater.

Use only approved, rigid metal piping to connect room heaters and other types of fuel-burning equipment.

Keep the flue burning equipment — flue pipes and chimney — clean and in good condition.

Do not substitute a bottle gas heater for a natural gas heater without changing the orifice. If in doubt, check with your gas company or appliance service man.

Girls And Marriages

Discoveries In The Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Girls are still more eager than boys to go to the altar. A survey of teen-agers found that 42 per cent of the girls, but only 14 per cent of the boys, expected to be married by their 21st birthday. Some 23 per cent of the boys—only 13 per cent of the girls—expressed doubt about ever getting married.

Speaking of weddings, here's how the desert Bedouins prepare a marital feast: Cooked eggs are stuffed in fish, the fish in cooked chickens, the chickens in a roasted sheep, and the sheep in a whole roasted camel. What a crazy, mixed-up canape:

Ever wonder why a bird can fly and you can't? Well, besides their feathers, birds have another advantage. They have air sacs in their bones that connect with their lungs. When birds take a deep breath it helps make their bodies lighter.

You may hold a flea in disdain, but he has a low opinion of you, too. Most of the 1,750 varieties of fleas would rather dine on dogs or rats than people. If, size considered, you had the hopping power of a flea, you'd be able to leap a distance of almost two football fields.

Quotable notables: "Laugh at yourself first, before anybody else can."—Elsa Maxwell, quoting the death-bed advice given by her father.

New on the market: A fresh complexion aid for milady called "sea cream." It's made from an essence of seaweed, mosses and ocean minerals. But you don't dive into it—you just rub it on.

Drawing big crowds is no guarantee of victory for a political candidate. In the 1896 presidential race, William Jennings Bryan traveled 18,000 miles through 27 states and was heard by more than five million people. But William McKinley, who conducted a "front porch campaign" at his home in Canton, O., won by more than half a million votes.

High cost of health: Americans spent $33.1 billion in 1967 on medical services—up 10 per cent in a single year.

We tend to think of epidemics as characteristic of the Dark Ages, but the global influenza of 1918 was one of the most costly in history. It killed 21 million people throughout the world, more than 500,000 in the United States.

Worth remembering: "It is very hard to fight temptation. There is always the nagging thought—it may not come again."

It was Oscar Wilde who observed, "Nowadays people know the price of everything and the value of nothing."

Commission To Study

Midland Reaction Varies On 'Relations' Workshop

Questions, issues and suggestions brought out in Midland's human relations workshop Saturday will be submitted to the human relations commission for review and study, it was announced at the conclusion of the day-long event.

Among proposals offered at the summary session late in the afternoon was creation of an advisory council on which youth of the community would be represented.

Reaction to the workshop ranged from "disappointment" to confidence that new solutions may solve some of the issues in the community.

Mayor Eli Corak said of the sessions, "Every opportunity was given citizens to openly discuss and bring to the attention of the human relations commission major defects in community life. I viewed no major defects, and will make every attempt within common judgement to improve minor presentations. All in all, it was a worthwhile day."

Will Leavelle, official of the NAACP in Midland, said he was disappointed at the attendance of white adults and of both black and white young people.

"Because of the predominance of black, I think the poor turnout indicated a lack of interest by the white community or fear that they feel this is a Negro problem. Actually, this is everyone's problem, black and white, and if it is to be corrected or solved, we must do it together."

The Rev. Oscar Arnal of the Ohioview Lutheran Church said he thought the workshop was beneficial to a degree, but added, "There remains a feeling of fear and underlying tension — the problems haven't been freely brought out. It will be interesting to see if there is any response."

Following a talk by Rep. Leroy Irvis of Pittsburgh in the morning, workshop sessions were held on Education, Youth, Housing, Employment and Pubic Service and Accomodations.

After lunch, the workshops resumed, and at 3 p. m. a general meeting was held at which questions were submitted to a panel by workshop leaders.

All workshop discussions were transcribed in shorthand, and the question and answer panel sessions were tape recorded.

The panel was asked by Mrs. Leonard Ware of the housing session what can be done about the apprehension felt by white people about blacks moving into their neighborhoods.

Mrs. Florence Reizenstein of the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission answered there has been no loss of property value or trouble as a result of neighborhood moves throughout Pennsylvania, and if there is any incident or violation of the civil rights law, it should be reported to the state authorities.

Glenda Leavelle said the youth workshop recommended an advisory board be formed to organize recreation activities in the borough, and present any problems to Council or the board of education for action. Mayor Corak said the proposal would be taken under study.

Mrs. J. C. Singleton of the education workshop asked about whether there is any program to orient teachers about human relations problems. Dr. Charles Henderson, superintendent of schools, said such problems are handled as they appear and are identified.

He said there must be a dialogue between parent and teacher, and efforts are constantly being made for better relations.

Discoveries In The Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Girls are still more eager than boys to go to the altar. A survey of teen-agers found that 42 per cent of the girls, but only 14 per cent of the boys, expected to be married by their 21st birthday. Some 23 per cent of the boys—only 13 per cent of the girls—expressed doubt about ever getting married.

Speaking of weddings, here's how the desert Bedouins prepare a marital feast: Cooked eggs are stuffed in fish, the fish in cooked chickens, the chickens in a roasted sheep, and the sheep in a whole roasted camel. What a crazy, mixed-up canape:

Ever wonder why a bird can fly and you can't? Well, besides their feathers, birds have another advantage. They have air sacs in their bones that connect with their lungs. When birds take a deep breath it helps make their bodies lighter.

You may hold a flea in disdain, but he has a low opinion of you, too. Most of the 1,750 varieties of fleas would rather dine on dogs or rats than people. If, size considered, you had the hopping power of a flea, you'd be able to leap a distance of almost two football fields.

Quotable notables: "Laugh at yourself first, before anybody else can."—Elsa Maxwell, quoting the death-bed advice given by her father.

New on the market: A fresh complexion aid for milady called "sea cream." It's made from an essence of seaweed, mosses and ocean minerals. But you don't dive into it—you just rub it on.

Drawing big crowds is no guarantee of victory for a political candidate. In the 1896 presidential race, William Jennings Bryan traveled 18,000 miles through 27 states and was heard by more than five million people. But William McKinley, who conducted a "front porch campaign" at his home in Canton, O., won by more than half a million votes.

High cost of health: Americans spent $33.1 billion in 1967 on medical services—up 10 per cent in a single year.

City Crashes Listed

2 Suffer Injury In 2-Way Mishap

Two passengers, one in a parked auto, were treated at City Hospital for injuries received in a two-car accident on Pennsylvania Ave. Saturday at 7:45 p.m.

Police said Allen Jacob Phillips, 29, of 1043 Riverview St., was operating a 1960 sedan west when his auto struck the parked 1965 sedan owned by Larry F. Watson of 1031 Pennsylvania Ave. pushing Watson's auto forward approximately 15 feet onto the sidewalk.

Vicki Lynn Watson, who was seated in the Watson auto, and Charles F. Phillips, a passenger in the Phillips auto, were taken to the hospital.

Phillips was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance and operating a vehicle without a license.

At 7:08 p.m. Sunday, Daniel R. Clutter, 18, of 834 Avondale St. was driving his 1962 sedan on St. Clair Ave. approximately 100 feet south of Ray St. when a dog that was riding in his vehicle jumped into his face causing him to lose control of his car, which struck a parked auto belonging to Anita A. Beagle of 1028 St. Clair Ave.

The front of the Beagle car was smashed.

POLICE CITED Clutter for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

As the result of another accident at 3:15 a.m. Sunday, Virginia N. Holsinger, 50, of Middletown, operating a 1968 sedan, was cited by police for driving while intoxicated, improper backing and speeding.

Patrolman David Huffman said he was driving on St. Clair Ave. approximately 35 feet north of Manor Ln. when he turned on the red light of his cruiser and sounded the siren. The Holsinger woman stopped her auto and Huffman stopped about six feet behind her auto. As he started to get out of the cruiser, the other vehicle started to drift back, so he backed the cruiser another two feet and got out again.

The Holsinger woman then backed her auto into the front of the cruiser, he said.

MICHAEL L. Leahy, 20, of Nekossa, Wisc. was pulling his 1960 sedan through the parking lot of the Inn Town Motel Sunday looking for a parking place. As he stopped at the end of the driveway waiting for traffic to clear on E. 3rd St., a 1968 sedan operated by Michael Larito, 33, of Aliquippa backed down the driveway, striking his vehicle in the rear bumper guard and damaging the trunk lid and engine.

At 4:22 a.m. Sunday, Mike Colella of Beaver Falls was driving his 1966 off the Chester Bridge when he observed another auto approaching left of center. He stopped his car and it was struck by the 1966 sedan driven by Mrs. M. N. Smith, 60, of 550 Indiana Ave., Chester, Colella reported.

Mrs. Smith backed her auto, then proceeded south on the Chester Bridge. She was cited for leaving the scene of an accident and driving left of center.

In another incident Sunday at 11:14 a.m., Robert Frederick of Upper Columbian Park reported to police that his 1962 car parked in the yard at his home drifted down a hill into Thrifty City Building hitting it on the west side.

FURS AND FLOWERS are traditional for the Lord Mayor of London. Here, Sir Charles Trinder follows the time-honored custom in a procession after his election as the city's 642nd chief executive.

Businessmen Scored

MADRAS, India (AP) — One of India's leading elder statesmen says big businessmen are not good allies in the battle against governmental encroachments. Chakravarti Rajagopalachari, 89, founder of the rightist Swatantra party, says big businessmen are "timid and display much cowardice" when faced with direct attack from government.

Home Looted By Intruders

Jewelry, cash and $400 to $500 in travelers' checks were taken in the looting of an East Liverpool home that was reported to police Sunday.

Charles Kidd of 1842 Montana Ave. told officers that sometime between 9 a.m. Friday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday a burglar gained entry to his home by prying a window on the east side.

The house was ransacked completely and several articles were taken, including $400 to $500 in travelers' checks, two radios, two jewelry boxes with an assortment of jewelry, a Masonic Lodge tie tack and various other tie clasps and a piggy bank containing about $15, including change and four $2 bills. The intruders left by the rear door.

2 Suffer Injury In 2-Way Mishap

Two passengers, one in a parked auto, were treated at City Hospital for injuries received in a two-car accident on Pennsylvania Ave. Saturday at 7:45 p.m.

Police said Allen Jacob Phillips, 29, of 1043 Riverview St., was operating a 1960 sedan west when his auto struck the parked 1965 sedan owned by Larry F. Watson of 1031 Pennsylvania Ave. pushing Watson's auto forward approximately 15 feet onto the sidewalk.

Vicki Lynn Watson, who was seated in the Watson auto, and Charles F. Phillips, a passenger in the Phillips auto, were taken to the hospital.

Phillips was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance and operating a vehicle without a license.

At 7:08 p.m. Sunday, Daniel R. Clutter, 18, of 834 Avondale St. was driving his 1962 sedan on St. Clair Ave. approximately 100 feet south of Ray St. when a dog that was riding in his vehicle jumped into his face causing him to lose control of his car, which struck a parked auto belonging to Anita A. Beagle of 1028 St. Clair Ave.

The front of the Beagle car was smashed.

POLICE CITED Clutter for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

As the result of another accident at 3:15 a.m. Sunday, Virginia N. Holsinger, 50, of Middletown, operating a 1968 sedan, was cited by police for driving while intoxicated, improper backing and speeding.

Patrolman David Huffman said he was driving on St. Clair Ave. approximately 35 feet north of Manor Ln. when he turned on the red light of his cruiser and sounded the siren. The Holsinger woman stopped her auto and Huffman stopped about six feet behind her auto. As he started to get out of the cruiser, the other vehicle started to drift back, so he backed the cruiser another two feet and got out again.

The Holsinger woman then backed her auto into the front of the cruiser, he said.

MICHAEL L. Leahy, 20, of Nekossa, Wisc. was pulling his 1960 sedan through the parking lot of the Inn Town Motel Sunday looking for a parking place. As he stopped at the end of the driveway waiting for traffic to clear on E. 3rd St., a 1968 sedan operated by Michael Larito, 33, of Aliquippa backed down the driveway, striking his vehicle in the rear bumper guard and damaging the trunk lid and engine.

At 4:22 a.m. Sunday, Mike Colella of Beaver Falls was driving his 1966 off the Chester Bridge when he observed another auto approaching left of center. He stopped his car and it was struck by the 1966 sedan driven by Mrs. M. N. Smith, 60, of 550 Indiana Ave., Chester, Colella reported.

Mrs. Smith backed her auto, then proceeded south on the Chester Bridge. She was cited for leaving the scene of an accident and driving left of center.

In another incident Sunday at 11:14 a.m., Robert Frederick of Upper Columbian Park reported to police that his 1962 car parked in the yard at his home drifted down a hill into Thrifty City Building hitting it on the west side.

Home Looted By Intruders

Charles Kidd of 1842 Montana Ave. told officers that sometime between 9 a.m. Friday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday a burglar gained entry to his home by prying a window on the east side.

The house was ransacked completely and several articles were taken, including $400 to $500 in travelers' checks, two radios, two jewelry boxes with an assortment of jewelry, a Masonic Lodge tie tack and various other tie clasps and a piggy bank containing about $15, including change and four $2 bills. The intruders left by the rear door.

Law Officers Wounded In Dayton Battle

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Montgomery County sheriff's deputies and a policeman were wounded in a shooting incident in Madison Township early Sunday.

The officers were approaching the scene of what they described as a drunken brawl when members of the two gangs involved opened fire on them. The officers returned the fire, retreated, and called up reinforcements.

More men from the sheriff's department, the Madison Township and Dayton police departments were rushed in.

Sheriff's deputy Tom Long, 27, received a shotgun blast in the face. Doctors worked Sunday to save a damaged eye. Deputy Robert Johnston, 24, like Long a Dayton man, was shot in the leg.

Madison Township Patrolman Ronald Laktu, 28, was hit in the leg and shoulder by shotgun fire. Long's condition was listed fair. The other two offices were reported satisfactory.

Also in a hospital, in serious condition, was Tim Healey, 27 of Miami County. Healey and seven other men were held for questioning in the shooting of the officers.

No charges had been filed Sunday night, but sheriff's detectives said they were treating the incident as "shooting with intent to kill."

Earlier a Madison Township fire department vehicle had been fired on as it drove past members of two white gangs on a road west of Dayton. No one was hurt.

Law Officers Wounded In Dayton Battle

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Montgomery County sheriff's deputies and a policeman were wounded in a shooting incident in Madison Township early Sunday.

The officers were approaching the scene of what they described as a drunken brawl when members of the two gangs involved opened fire on them. The officers returned the fire, retreated, and called up reinforcements.

More men from the sheriff's department, the Madison Township and Dayton police departments were rushed in.

Sheriff's deputy Tom Long, 27, received a shotgun blast in the face. Doctors worked Sunday to save a damaged eye. Deputy Robert Johnston, 24, like Long a Dayton man, was shot in the leg.

Madison Township Patrolman Ronald Laktu, 28, was hit in the leg and shoulder by shotgun fire. Long's condition was listed fair. The other two offices were reported satisfactory.

Also in a hospital, in serious condition, was Tim Healey, 27 of Miami County. Healey and seven other men were held for questioning in the shooting of the officers.

No charges had been filed Sunday night, but sheriff's detectives said they were treating the incident as "shooting with intent to kill."

Earlier a Madison Township fire department vehicle had been fired on as it drove past members of two white gangs on a road west of Dayton. No one was hurt.

ANN LANDERS

Hippies-True And False

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm only 15 and haven't formed solid ideas about a lot of things. One thing I'm really undecided about is the hippies.

It seems to me they stand for love and peace. Is that bad? In these times when there's so much unrest in the world — so much hate and killing and anger — isn't love a good thing to talk up? What's bad about people handing each other flowers?

Why are some people against the hippies? Maybe the hippies are the answer to the world's problems. I don't think I've ever seen anything about hippies in your colums. Please tell me what you think about them. — Willing to learn.

Dear Willing: I'm for peace and love, and I like flowers as well as the next person, but I also believe in work, soap and water, reality and doing something constructive to make this a better world. Lying in the grass in groups, shunning employment, smoking pot and freaking out solves no problems.

The hippies have nothing to offer but criticism. They're cop-outs and moochers. What they call love is often a temporary feeling of euphoria produced by drugs.

At the beginning of the hippie movement many sincere people were impressed with their idealism and applauded their protest against the ugliness of the world. But as time passed, it became clear that the true idealists were grossly outnumbered by the phonies, the hop heads and the cowards who flocked to the scene.

The Lost Chord

Dear Ann: In July last year, our church organist began to put on weight. Two months later she quit her job, left town and the word got around that she'd given birth to a child.

This woman is no teen-ager. She's nearly 30 and old enough to know better than to get into a jam like that. She gave the baby away like it was a cat or a dog.

Now the grand lady of the manor has returned to the city thin as a rail and her hair is a different color. She smiles a lot and acts as if she's had a six-month vacation in Switzerland. Everyone is supposed to accept her, ask no questions and play dumb.

Why should she get away with such immoral behavior? Now it's the townspeople who are on trial. It suddenly becomes OUR responsibility to be gracious and overlook everything.

Don't tell me to mind my own business. This person happens to be my cousin and therefore what she does IS my business. Do you have an answer?—SUNFLOWER.

-:-

Dear Sun: What would you like the woman to do — wear a scarlet letter and hold a question-and-answer forum in the main lobby of the Post Office every morning between 10 a.m. and noon?

Instead of giving her credit for holding her head up, you seem annoyed that her unfortunate experience didn't crush her spirit and wreck her life. People like you give me indigestion.

Confidentially

To Thumbs Up or Down: I'd say thumbs sideways on this one. Legally you can do it — but morally and taste-wise you'd be a rotten egg.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

1,733 Girls Enrolled As Blind Dates

CHICAGO (AP) — Some of the girls appeared nervous but the nation's future military men looked calm under pressure as Chicago provided 1,733 of its fairest as dates for members of the Air Force Academy and Naval Academy at a ball.

The cadets and midshipmen were in the city Saturday for the fourth annual Navy-Air Force football game in Soldier Field. Air Force won 26-20.

That night the officer candidates turned their attention to the social graces at the ball as guests of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The girls were selected from about 6,000 who answered the city's request for volunteers. Col. Jack Reilly, Daley's director of special events, said the girls came from as far away as Minnesota but most were from Chicago. They were matched with their escorts according to height, weight and general interests.

A Mundelein College coed said she volunteered simply because, "it was something different."

But another girl said she signed up because, "when you put a uniform on a boy he is twice as handsome."

A young switchboard operator expressed her nervousness as she waited to meet her blind date. "I'm going through the torture test," she said. "What will he look like? What will we talk about?"

The cadets and midshipmen seemed to view the event in a more realistic light.

"There's not much else you can do when you need a date," a cadet said.

A midshipman agreed: "It's virtually impossible to meet a girl any other way."

Incumbent Opposed By Schweiker

Clark Seen In Difficulty In Pennsylvania Contest

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In Pennsylvania the important U.S. Senate fight involves a strong dove against a mild hawk, age against youth, and how the three-cornered race for president goes.

Though the Vietnam war is a big issue, there are differences on law and order, gun controls, funds for rebuilding cities—and the result Nov. 5 likely will be a cliffhanger, with the Democratic incumbent considered in deep trouble.

Joseph Sill Clark, the veteran, graying Democrat seeking a third six-year term, is used to tough brawls. His victories in 1956 and 1962 were close, both times reversing Republican top-of-the-ticket trends.

Republican challenger Richard S. Schweiker is a youthful, more photogenic (for television, anyway) four-term Congressman from the middle-class, white-collar Philadelphia suburbs.

Clark Is A Dove

Clark, 67, is the dove. The former Philadelphia mayor proudly dates his opposition to the Vietnam fighting back to 1965 when it was an unpopular position. Now, he says, other politicians are hollering "me too."

Schweiker, 42, supports generally the present American war policy, including the limited bombing.

Clark, a millionaire lawyer twice-divorced and recently remarried, insists he's "a man who owns his own soul . . . with guts enough to tell it like it is." In this vein he says frankly that the Democrats are in trouble in Pennsylvania, that they must carry Philadelphia by at least 250,000 to win the state. His 1962 margin in his hometown was 180,000; it was 171,000 in 1956.

Again and again, in face-to-face television debate with Schweiker—they've already met three times with one more go-round set for the end of October—Clark twits his GOP opponent for always being against everything, and also accuses him of lying.

"Now, you know, Dick, that is an untruth," is the way Clark hurls back statements made by Schweiker.

But the congressman, unflinching, flings Clark's words right back, often quoting from the senator's speeches, statements and letters.

Both Liberals

Both men are considered in the liberal mold. Schweiker has been likened, on the national GOP scene, as a young comer in the image of Mayor John Lindsay of New York. When they serve together in Congress their views frequently coincided.

The race actually hasn't fired up any hard voter interest. Neither man is attracting big crowds on his own—only when they share the same platform with their party's candidates for president or vice president.

Polls so far are inconclusive. Pennsylvania Democrats have paid for one that gives Clark and vice president Hubert H. Humphrey the edge. Republicans, contrarily, say their paid pollster finds Schweiker and Richard M. Nixon will be the winners. Independent observers view both races a toss-up.

In the end, the result may depend on just how much strength George C. Wallace, the third party presidential candidate, drains away from Humphrey and Nixon. This variously estimated at from 6 to 25 per cent, with more possible Democratic defections.

There are three minor party candidates in the race: Frank Gaydosh, Constitutional; Benson Perry, Socialist-Labor, and Mrs. Pearl Chertov, Militant Workers. Few expect them to make any impact or affect the outcome.

University Awards

1st Honorary Degree

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—Soprano Leontyne Price, a 1948 graduate of Central State University, was awarded that school's first honorary degree Saturday by the University's new president, Dr. Herman Branson.

In conferring the degree, Dr. Branson accidentally said he was awarding Miss Price a Doctor of Medicine degree. He quickly corrected himself, said it was a doctorate of music, then added that her singing is "medicine to the soul."

Noted Actress Claimed At 62

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bea Benaderet, matriarch of television's "Petticoat Junction," is dead at 62—the victim of pneumonia and lung cancer.

The blonde, brown-eyed actress was starting her sixth season playing Kate Bradley. She had filmed five episodes for the current run when she was forced to return to the hospital Sept. 26.

The vivacious performer underwent radiation treatment last year at the Stanford Medical Clinic in Palo Alto for a lung tumor.

Upon her release, Miss Benaderet told a newsman, while recuperating at Palm Springs—"Every day is beautiful to me . . . I feel fine, better than I have felt in years."

She died Sunday in Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles.

Civil Disobedience Discussed By Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, says "the total permissive atmosphere that is sweeping this country" can be corrected by separating "civil rights from civil irresponsibility."

The Republican vice presidential candidate offered his solution to "irresponsible dissent" Sunday while appearing on a CBS television news show, "Face the Nation."

Agnew said "as a matter of principal and practice" that to condone lawbreakers even when a law is unjust cannot be allowed.

ANN LANDERS

Hippies-True And False

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm only 15 and haven't formed solid ideas about a lot of things. One thing I'm really undecided about is the hippies.

It seems to me they stand for love and peace. Is that bad? In these times when there's so much unrest in the world — so much hate and killing and anger — isn't love a good thing to talk up? What's bad about people handing each other flowers?

Why are some people against the hippies? Maybe the hippies are the answer to the world's problems. I don't think I've ever seen anything about hippies in your colums. Please tell me what you think about them. — Willing to learn.

Dear Willing: I'm for peace and love, and I like flowers as well as the next person, but I also believe in work, soap and water, reality and doing something constructive to make this a better world. Lying in the grass in groups, shunning employment, smoking pot and freaking out solves no problems.

The hippies have nothing to offer but criticism. They're cop-outs and moochers. What they call love is often a temporary feeling of euphoria produced by drugs.

At the beginning of the hippie movement many sincere people were impressed with their idealism and applauded their protest against the ugliness of the world. But as time passed, it became clear that the true idealists were grossly outnumbered by the phonies, the hop heads and the cowards who flocked to the scene.

The Lost Chord

Dear Ann: In July last year, our church organist began to put on weight. Two months later she quit her job, left town and the word got around that she'd given birth to a child.

This woman is no teen-ager. She's nearly 30 and old enough to know better than to get into a jam like that. She gave the baby away like it was a cat or a dog.

Now the grand lady of the manor has returned to the city thin as a rail and her hair is a different color. She smiles a lot and acts as if she's had a six-month vacation in Switzerland. Everyone is supposed to accept her, ask no questions and play dumb.

Why should she get away with such immoral behavior? Now it's the townspeople who are on trial. It suddenly becomes OUR responsibility to be gracious and overlook everything.

Don't tell me to mind my own business. This person happens to be my cousin and therefore what she does IS my business. Do you have an answer?—SUNFLOWER.

-:-

Dear Sun: What would you like the woman to do — wear a scarlet letter and hold a question-and-answer forum in the main lobby of the Post Office every morning between 10 a.m. and noon?

Instead of giving her credit for holding her head up, you seem annoyed that her unfortunate experience didn't crush her spirit and wreck her life. People like you give me indigestion.

Confidentially

To Thumbs Up or Down: I'd say thumbs sideways on this one. Legally you can do it — but morally and taste-wise you'd be a rotten egg.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

1,733 Girls Enrolled As Blind Dates

CHICAGO (AP) — Some of the girls appeared nervous but the nation's future military men looked calm under pressure as Chicago provided 1,733 of its fairest as dates for members of the Air Force Academy and Naval Academy at a ball.

The cadets and midshipmen were in the city Saturday for the fourth annual Navy-Air Force football game in Soldier Field. Air Force won 26-20.

That night the officer candidates turned their attention to the social graces at the ball as guests of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The girls were selected from about 6,000 who answered the city's request for volunteers. Col. Jack Reilly, Daley's director of special events, said the girls came from as far away as Minnesota but most were from Chicago. They were matched with their escorts according to height, weight and general interests.

A Mundelein College coed said she volunteered simply because, "it was something different."

But another girl said she signed up because, "when you put a uniform on a boy he is twice as handsome."

A young switchboard operator expressed her nervousness as she waited to meet her blind date. "I'm going through the torture test," she said. "What will he look like? What will we talk about?"

The cadets and midshipmen seemed to view the event in a more realistic light.

"There's not much else you can do when you need a date," a cadet said.

A midshipman agreed: "It's virtually impossible to meet a girl any other way."

Civil Disobedience Discussed By Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, says "the total permissive atmosphere that is sweeping this country" can be corrected by separating "civil rights from civil irresponsibility."

The Republican vice presidential candidate offered his solution to "irresponsible dissent" Sunday while appearing on a CBS television news show, "Face the Nation."

Agnew said "as a matter of principal and practice" that to condone lawbreakers even when a law is unjust cannot be allowed.

Incumbent Opposed By Schweiker

Clark Seen In Difficulty In Pennsylvania Contest

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In Pennsylvania the important U.S. Senate fight involves a strong dove against a mild hawk, age against youth, and how the three-cornered race for president goes.

Though the Vietnam war is a big issue, there are differences on law and order, gun controls, funds for rebuilding cities—and the result Nov. 5 likely will be a cliffhanger, with the Democratic incumbent considered in deep trouble.

Joseph Sill Clark, the veteran, graying Democrat seeking a third six-year term, is used to tough brawls. His victories in 1956 and 1962 were close, both times reversing Republican top-of-the-ticket trends.

Republican challenger Richard S. Schweiker is a youthful, more photogenic (for television, anyway) four-term Congressman from the middle-class, white-collar Philadelphia suburbs.

Clark Is A Dove

Clark, 67, is the dove. The former Philadelphia mayor proudly dates his opposition to the Vietnam fighting back to 1965 when it was an unpopular position. Now, he says, other politicians are hollering "me too."

Schweiker, 42, supports generally the present American war policy, including the limited bombing.

Clark, a millionaire lawyer twice-divorced and recently remarried, insists he's "a man who owns his own soul . . . with guts enough to tell it like it is." In this vein he says frankly that the Democrats are in trouble in Pennsylvania, that they must carry Philadelphia by at least 250,000 to win the state. His 1962 margin in his hometown was 160,000; it was 171,000 in 1956.

Again and again, in face-to-face television debate with Schweiker—they've already met three times with one more go-round set for the end of October—Clark twits his GOP opponent for always being against everything, and also accuses him of lying.

"Now, you know, Dick, that is an untruth," is the way Clark hurls back statements made by Schweiker.

But the congressman, unflinching, flings Clark's words right back, often quoting from the senator's speeches, statements and letters.

Both Liberals

Both men are considered in the liberal mold. Schweiker has been likened, on the national GOP scene, as a young comer in the image of Mayor John Lindsay of New York. When they serve together in Congress their views frequently coincided.

The race actually hasn't fired up any hard voter interest. Neither man is attracting big crowds on his own—only when they share the same platform with their party's candidates for president or vice president.

Polls so far are inconclusive. Pennsylvania Democrats have paid for one that gives Clark and vice president Hubert H. Humphrey the edge. Republicans, contrarily, say their paid pollster finds Schweiker and Richard M. Nixon will be the winners. Independent observers view both races a toss-up.

In the end, the result may depend on just how much strength George C. Wallace, the third party presidential candidate, drains away from Humphrey and Nixon. This variously estimated at from 6 to 25 per cent, with more possible Democratic defections.

There are three minor party candidates in the race: Frank Gaydosh, Constitutional; Benson Perry, Socialist-Labor, and Mrs. Pearl Chertov, Militant Workers. Few expect them to make any impact or affect the outcome.

University Awards 1st Honorary Degree

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—Soprano Leontyne Price, a 1948 graduate of Central State University, was awarded that school's first honorary degree Saturday by the University's new president, Dr. Herman Branson.

In conferring the degree, Dr. Branson accidentally said he was awarding Miss Price a Doctor of Medicine degree. He quickly corrected himself, said it was a doctorate of music, then added that her singing is "medicine to the soul."

Noted Actress Claimed At 62

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bea Benaderet, matriarch of television's "Petticoat Junction," is dead at 62—the victim of pneumonia and lung cancer.

The blonde, brown-eyed actress was starting her sixth season playing Kate Bradley. She had filmed five episodes for the current run when she was forced to return to the hospital Sept. 26.

The vivacious performer underwent radiation treatment last year at the Stanford Medical Clinic in Palo Alto for a lung tumor.

Upon her release, Miss Benaderet told a newsman, while recuperating at Palm Springs—

"Every day is beautiful to me . . . I feel fine, better than I have felt in years."

She died Sunday in Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles.

Wallace Presents Views On Issues Of Campaign

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George C. Wallace says the United States should set a time limit on the Paris peace conference and go after military victory in Vietnam if negotiators fail to meet the deadline.

Wallace, the American Independent party candidate for President, reiterated that he hopes for a negotiated settlement. But he said he is convinced the North Vietnamese are using the peace talks "for propaganda purposes and to rebuild that portion of North Vietnam we're not bombing now."

Asked how he would go about increasing pressure on the North Vietnamese to negotiate acceptable terms, the former Alabama governor replied:

War Stand

"Well, of course, I don't want to talk about military strategy and tactics because I'm not a military man. But if I were president and peace talks hadn't concluded and we don't have an honorable settlement by the time of the new administration, then I think we ought to set some time limit in the matter of negotiations, and then if they don't solve and settle the matter honorably, then we ought to win a military victory with conventional weapons and get out of Vietnam."

In outlining his views on Vietnam and other campaign issues to a team of Associated Press editors, Wallace said he "would ask the Joint Chiefs of Staff what military action we should take," to defeat the enemy in Vietnam.

"I would lean heavily upon them and probably accept their advice," he said.

Wallace, interviewed Oct. 4 in Buffalo where he stopped overnight during a swing through seven key northern states, said ending the war and maintaining law and order at home were the major issues of the campaign.

He was asked how he would deal with four types of crime and disorder: Organized crime, petty crime—especially offenses by young people desperate for money to buy drugs, racial strife, including riots, and student demonstrations against the war.

Views On Crime

Wallace emphasized that he thinks fighting crime and keeping the peace are primarily the responsibility of the states. But he claimed, nonetheless, that his election as president would bring about stronger law enforcement.

A victory at the polls, he said, would be "a moral boost to the policeman" and "a mandate to the officials back in the states to stand with their police and not handcuff them."

The candidate, blaming U.S. Supreme Court decisions limiting police powers in questioning suspects, said "it is almost impossible to convict anybody of any crime now from the highest to the lowest."

Asked if he would recommend to Congress that it overturn two of the court's most controversial rulings, the so-called Escobedo and Miranda decisions, Wallace replied:

"Yes, I would. I said that many times. I think those two decisions have helped bring about the increase in the crime rate and they really, in effect, made second class citizens of the policemen in our country."

The 1964 Escobedo decision, coupled with the Miranda ruling two years later, prevent the use of confessions as evidence unless the prosecutor can show that "effective steps were taken to secure the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination."

Other than seeking to overturn these decisions, Wallace said he had no specific plans for combating crime, but would urge more vigilance by the Justice Department, and call upon all law enforcement agencies to crackdown on the traffic in marijuana, LSD and other drugs.

Give Police Power

Asked how he would go about preventing or putting down racial disorders, including rioting and looting, Wallace said police should be "allowed to use whatever methods are necessary to prevent the breakdown of law and order and then if it does break down, they ought to be allowed to use whatever measures are necessary to stop it."

"I don't want to see a situation exist where people just go out and want to knock people in the head," he said. "However, sometimes when you knock a few in the head, it saves having to knock many in the head, and I think strong measures in the beginning save lives."

Wallace was asked if he thought police should be allowed to shoot to stop looters and arsonists. "To stop a riot and looting and destruction of property and the committing of arson, yes," he said. "Yes. If that's the only way it can be done, yes."

While defending the right to demonstrate in opposition to the Vietnam war, Wallace reiterated his position that the federal government should "seek indictments against those who make speeches calling for Communist victory and those on college campuses, the few that do raise money and blood and clothes for the Communists"—action which he called "overt acts of treason."

Local School Control

Turning to one of his own major campaign themes, local control of public institutions, Wallace said his proposed constitutional amendment to give the states absolute power over public schools would permit each state to choose the kind of school system it wanted.

"Including any kind they wanted to have," Wallace replied, "including having one like they have in Washington, which is a jungle . . ."

Wallace wouldn't say whether his amendment would cover other local institutions, although he said "hospitals also ought to be exclusive of federal control." Neither would he say whether he'd ask Congress to repeal the civil rights act outlawing racial discrimination in public accommodations.

"I don't advocate that people not be public-accommodated at any place," said Wallace, "but I do object to government supervising the business and I don't think the law is good."

On another key issue, domestic inflation, Wallace said he would combat it by cutting government spending, specifically for foreign aid, welfare and poverty programs. But at the same time, he said he'd take funds now used for some poverty programs to finance a public works program and "employ able-bodied people in the building of highways and the building of streets, sewers, drainage systems which enhance wealth and property values and helps to create trade and commerce."

No Settlement Reported On African Issue

GIBRALTAR (AP) — The British-Rhodesian conference ended Sunday night with no prospect of a settlement, but British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith agreed to consult their governments and keep in touch.

The four days of deadlocked summit talks ended with a joint statement saying "a very wide gulf still remains" between the British government and the white minority government which proclaimed the African territory's independence three years ago to preserve white rule.

The basic issue remains unresolved: Britain's demand for unimpeded progress toward rule of Rhodesia by the four million black Africans instead of by the 220,000 whites.

Smith's unilateral declaration of independence from Britain in November 1965 remains illegal as far as Britain is concerned. British and U.N. economic sanctions have weakened Rhodesia's thriving economy.

Smith is now committed to a new Rhodesian constitution that will push his nation toward South Africa and virtually exclude the possiblity of a settlement with Britain.

The British terms again demanded constitutional arrangements to advance Rhodesia's black majority steadily to power, while Smith insisted once more that majority rule cannot come to Rhodesia in the next 100 years.

Wilson also demanded constitutional guarantees to prevent an independent Rhodesian government from rescinding rights granted the blacks and immediate progress toward ending racial discrimination.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Coat Hooks For Kiddoes

DEAR HELOISE: Metal garters make wonderful coat hooks for children. Before you throw out a girdle, remove the elastic and button portion of the garter and sew it to the label in the back of the child's coat.

Heloise

It's a wonderful and easy way for children to hang up their clothes on the coat closet hooks at school.

TEACHER.

-:-

It's a good idea. We mothers really appreciate all you teachers who work so hard to help our children.

Bless you all for your patience and kindnesses.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Shoulder pads are a thing of the past. If you have any old ones on hand, they make real good pot holders.

Take two three-cornered ones and sew them together in the middle to form a square. Then cover with a scrap of material.

You'll find that you've got a dandy pad to hold hot dishes.

MRS. FRED BRYANT.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: Can a man make a complaint and also offer a cure for it?

It seem that every time I go to the supermarket to shop, and am lined up at the check-out counter, there are several customers ahead with carts loaded down with groceries.

Most of them wait until the groceries are all checked out, and then, and only then, do they start making out a check. Usually they ask the date and the amount of the purchase while the rest of us cool our heels.

Well, I also pay for my purchases by check. But I fill in the name of the store, date and sign it as I wait impatiently in line. Or stop in an aisle and do it before getting in the checking line.

Then when I am ready to pay, all that is left to do is fill in the amount, which takes very little time!

D. H.

-:-

Sir, I know your letter referred to women customers, but I took the liberty to change it to include all customers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for people who live alone.

When I was alone recently, I got sore muscles in the middle of my shoulders. After trying unsuccessfully to put liniment on the sore spot with the shoe polish-type dauber that came in the bottle, I remembered that I had bought a new dishwasher sponge recently and hadn't used it yet.

It has a sponge piece fastened on a plastic handle. So I took it and saturated the sponge part with liniment and applied it to the sore spot easily.

Now I keep that one in the bathroom just for this purpose and bought another one for doing dishes.

MRS. CLARENCE GIBBONS.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a hint for knitters.

When the instructions call for "binding off," it is easy to forget in the middle how many we've already done.

So to help me, I count the number of stitches to be bound off plus one (don't forget the plus one because you need two stitches on the needle to bind off). Then I put a safety pin through the last stitch to be bound off. I remove the pin when I'm ready for that last stitch. Great! No more forgetting.

MRS. BARBARA ORKLINE.

DEAR HELOISE: For anyone who uses the antique furniture kits, please tell them to use one of your famous nylon net balls instead of the cheesecloth that comes in the kit.

You obtain a real grain look with half the effort.

JANICE HENRY.

You just told 'em, Angel. Thanks.

HELOISE.

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Johnson Hits Congress On Maritime Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the capital today after ending a Texas weekend the way it began —criticizing Congress.

Reluctantly signing a bill providing a one-year extension for government subsidies for merchant vessels built in U.S. shipyards, Johnson lamented Sunday that Congress had not adopted his plans to restructure and revitalize U.S. merchast marine policy.

After more than 30 years of subsidy, Johnson said, "the United States finds itself with an outmoded merchant fleet whose survival is almost wholly dependent on continued and ever-increasing federal support."

He decried "piecemeal legislation" in this field and called on the next Congress "to get on with the vital task we have placed before it" to launch a completely new maritime program.

The bill was one of 25 Johnson signed over the weekend. One of them was a farm bill he signed during the flight to Texas Friday and which prompted him to accuse Congress of sweeping farm problems under the rug.

The President, his daughter, Luci Nugent, and 16-month-old grandson, Lyn, went ot Texas Friday night after a visit to former President Harry S. Truman in Independence, Mo.

Youth Given 1-15 Term In Reformatory

LISBON — William Matevich, 18, of New Waterford, involved in five Columbiana County burglaries last spring, was sentenced to 1 to 15 years in the Ohio State Reformatory Friday by Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court. The judge denied the youth's request for probation.

Indicted in June by the April term grand jury, Matevich admitted break-ins April 23 at the Village Inn, New Waterford; April 24 and May 3 at Valley Inn, Negley, and May 3 and 4 at William A. Dickey & Sons store, Negley.

Judge Sharp sentenced Matevich on each count, but said the sentences may be served together. Mahoning County wants Matevich to answer to a burglary charge. Judge Sharp ordered that he be surrendered to Mahoning County for prosecution before he begins serving the reformatory sentence.

Two defendants in September grand jury indictments changed their pleas from "not guilty" to "guilty" and were sentenced by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

James D. Chase, 20, of Columbiana was denied probation and sentenced to the reformatory to serve concurrent terms of 1 to 15 years for burglary Nov. 23 at Northeast Farms, Columbiana, and 1 to 3 years for forcing entry into a laundry coinbox April 8 in Columbiana.

Robert E. Smith, 37, of Newell, charged with soliciting for sodomy, was sentenced to four months in the County Jail.

Judge Buzzard granted probation for five years to Harry L. Knight of Minerva, who pleaded guilty last march to the malicious burning of his house trailer in Franklin Township in January. A condition of probation is that he reimburse the lienholder on the trailer at $50 per month until the loss is paid in full.

Anthony W. Cross, 22, of Leetonia and James W. Sparks, 20, of the Salem - Youngstown Rd. pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary June 19 at the Carrie Mellinger residence, 116 Vine St., Salem.

They asked the court for probation. Judge Buzzard ordered a pre - sentence investigation and report.

Indian Leaders Laud

NEW DELHI (AP) — Japan is the finest example for India to learn from, two Indian leaders said here recently.

Reason: Japan's revolutionary technological advancement while preserving its ancient heritage.

Jaya Prakash Narayan, a respected non-party leader, was giving newsmen his impressions after a visit to nine countries, including Japan.

"I found Japan is the country that can teach us the most," he said. He was amazed at the way "the Japanese have retained their cultural identity while assimilating the best in others."

Praise also came from the state minister in foreign ministry, B. R. Bhagat. He was speaking at a farewell dinner to the retiring Japanese envoy, Yujiro Iseki.

Bhagat called it a "miracle" that the Japanese should have advanced so fast without losing their cultural heritage. "India should take its lessons from Japan," he said.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Coat Hooks For Kiddoes

DEAR HELOISE: Metal garters make wonderful coat hooks for children. Before you throw out a girdle, remove the elastic and button portion of the garter and sew it to the label in the back of the child's coat.

Heloise

It's a wonderful and easy way for children to hang up their clothes on the coat closet hooks at school.

TEACHER.

-:-

It's a good idea. We mothers really appreciate all you teachers who work so hard to help our children.

Bless you all for your patience and kindnesses.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Shoulder pads are a thing of the past. If you have any old ones on hand, they make real good pot holders.

Take two three-cornered ones and sew them together in the middle to form a square. Then cover with a scrap of material.

You'll find that you've got a dandy pad to hold hot dishes.

MRS. FRED BRYANT.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: Can a man make a complaint and also offer a cure for it?

It seem that every time I go to the supermarket to shop, and am lined up at the check-out counter, there are several customers ahead with carts loaded down with groceries.

Most of them wait until the groceries are all checked out, and then, and only then, do they start making out a check. Usually they ask the date and the amount of the purchase while the rest of us cool our heels.

Well, I also pay for my purchases by check. But I fill in the name of the store, date and sign it as I wait impatiently in line. Or stop in an aisle and do it before getting in the checking line.

Then when I am ready to pay, all that is left to do is fill in the amount, which takes very little time!

D. H.

-:-

Sir, I know your letter referred to women customers, but I took the liberty to change it to include all customers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for people who live alone.

When I was alone recently, I got sore muscles in the middle of my shoulders. After trying unsuccessfully to put liniment on the sore spot with the shoe polish-type dauber that came in the bottle, I remembered that I had bought a new dishwasher sponge recently and hadn't used it yet.

It has a sponge piece fastened on a plastic handle. So I took it and saturated the sponge part with liniment and applied it to the sore spot easily.

Now I keep that one in the bathroom just for this purpose and bought another one for doing dishes.

MRS. CLARENCE GIBBONS.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a hint for knitters.

When the instructions call for "binding off," it is easy to forget in the middle how many we've already done.

So to help me, I count the number of stitches to be bound off plus one (don't forget the plus one because you need two stitches on the needle to bind off). Then I put a safety pin through the last stitch to be bound off. I remove the pin when I'm ready for that last stitch. Great! No more forgetting.

MRS. BARBARA ORKLINE.

DEAR HELOISE: For anyone who uses the antique furniture kits, please tell them to use one of your famous nylon net balls instead of the cheesecloth that comes in the kit.

You obtain a real grain look with half the effort.

JANICE HENRY.

You just told 'em, Angel. Thanks.

HELOISE.

-:-

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Johnson Hits Congress On Maritime Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the capital today after ending a Texas weekend the way it began —criticizing Congress.

Reluctantly signing a bill providing a one-year extension for government subsidies for merchant vessels built in U.S. shipyards, Johnson lamented Sunday that Congress had not adopted his plans to restructure and revitalize U.S. merchast marine policy.

After more than 30 years of subsidy, Johnson said, "the United States finds itself with an outmoded merchant fleet whose survival is almost wholly dependent on continued and ever-increasing federal support."

He decried "piecemeal legislation" in this field and called on the next Congress "to get on with the vital task we have placed before it" to launch a completely new maritime program.

The bill was one of 25 Johnson signed over the weekend. One of them was a farm bill he signed during the flight to Texas Friday and which prompted him to accuse Congress of sweeping farm problems under the rug.

The President, his daughter, Luci Nugent, and 16-month-old grandson, Lyn, went ot Texas Friday night after a visit to former President Harry S. Truman in Independence, Mo.

Warren WR Rallies In Last 1:29 To Down Potters 24-14

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Roger Staubach, who won the Heisman Trophy while a quarterback at the Naval Academy five years ago, plans to go into pro football with the Dallas Cowboys next season when his military obligation expires.

To the crowd at Rayen Stadium in Youngstown Saturday, Staubach resembled Fran Tarkenton more than Don Meredith, as he had to scramble under the pressure put on by Youngstown State against his Pensacola Naval Air Station team, but the pro quality was unmistakable.

The score of 58-38 was higher than a lot of basketball games, and the spectators at times felt they were watching a tennis match, so rapidly did the ball travel up and down the field.

STAUBACH connected on 27 of 39 passes for 455 yards and four TDs. His passes were pin-point accurate almost every time, his poise under pressure was admirable (or should it be "admiral" for a Navy man?), and he also proved to be the best runner on the Pensacola side. Without Staubach, the Goshawks (the P.A. man kept calling them Gashawks) couldn't have beaten a pickup team from the officers club at Guantanamo Bay, but the Pensacola field general was enough to whip a good Youngstown team. John Church, who also played football at the Naval Academy, was the only other outstanding performer for Pensacola, and he never was in on a scrimmage play. He merely kicked three field goals (missing a 52-yard attempt) and seven straight extra points, giving the Youngstown managers their share of exercise in battling small boys in the crowd who were inclined to make off with the football.

Youngstown made the mistakes a team loaded with freshmen and sophomores will make, but generally played a good game. The Penguins outgained Pensacola 552-499, but were hurt by five interceptions and four fumbles. Staubach was intercepted once, only the second time all year, and fumbled once after a jarring tackle.

DENNIS KLEMBARA, the Penguins' freshman quarterback from Beaver Local, provided an aerial show of his own, as he hit 16 of 33 passes for 391 yards and four TDs and scored another tally himself. He also passed for the lone successful conversion, thus accounting for all but six of the 38 points.

Klembara handled the team well, a feat rendered more difficult when it is realized that coach "Dike" Beede's offense is not a T in that the quarterback does not take the snap directly from the center but crouches down low about a yard in back of the line of scrimmage and takes a short center pass. The concept makes for deception in running, but puts a strain on the quarterback and center to make sure the exchange is handled cleanly.

Youngstown has a live Penguin mascot, which was appreciated by the crowd. But the fans came to see Staubach, and he put on a good show. It's ironic that he is the property of quarterback-rich Dallas. The Steelers, and some other NFL clubs, could use him.

73-Yard Play Proves Winner

By TURK PIERCE

Coming from behind in the last 1:29, Warren Western Reserve downed East Liverpool 24-14 at Patterson Field Saturday night.

The win was the 12th straight for the Raiders, ranked sixth in the state, while the Potters suffered their second loss of the season, both on Saturday night. East Liverpool is 4-0 on Fridays.

The loss snapped a 19-game home winning streak for East Liverpool. The last team to win here previously was Steubenville in 1965.

The passing combination of Dave Zoba and Bill Fisher was the villain of the game as far as the Potters were concerned. The pair teamed on a 33-yard TD aerial as time ran out in the first half to enable Warren to take an 8-6 lead to the dressing room and then connected on a 73-yard strike with 1:29 showing in the final period to tie the game 14-14. Zeba bootlegged the ball for the tie-breaking conversion and the Raiders got an insurance TD with nine seconds left.

Nelson (Sonny) Clark carried the ball 29 times for 130 yards as the Potters abandoned their usual tight T formation and went to an I, with Steve (Travis) Williams flanked wide to one side and the split end split wide to the other side. "The game plan was for the tailback (Clark) to carry the ball," said Potter coach Bob McNea, "and Williams was to be the pass reciver. But he couldn't hang onto the ball".

The Potter passing attack was not up to par, showing only five completions for 63 yards. Williams picked off a deflected pass for a score with 6:50 to go, but this was his only reception.

As figured, the game was a bruising defensive battle. The Raiders were hurt by penalties, especially in the first half, but the Potters stopped them inside the 10 twice in the third period, including once on a first and five situation.

John Cooks was the leading rusher for the visitors with 69 yards on 10 carries. Frank Allen picked up 60 yards on 15 carries and Clarence Williams, who scored the final TD, got 47 on 12.

Clark started the Potters off with a 28-yard kickoff return to the 44. A penalty brought a first down, but Clark fumbled and Sekerak recovered on the Warren 41. The rest of the period was a punting battle, but early in the second quarter the Potters got a break when Cooks fumbled after gaining 15 yards to the Reserve 48.

Clark went 11 on a draw play and Dan Cunningham 10 on a keeper. Clark carried five straight times, from the 27 to the 1, and Cunningham sneaked over to make it 6-0. On one of Clark's carries, he fumbled, but Jerry Christian, who played briefly despite being hampered by an ankle injury, recovered. Williams' run for the extra point failed.

Tom Chambers stopped a Warren drive with a leaping interception on the Potter 22, but East Liverpool was forced to punt and the Raiders came charging back. A fourth down pass from Zoba to Fred Benson put the ball on the Potters 24, but another fourth down completion to Benson was short of a first down on the 17.

Cunningham went 21 yards on a keeper to the 42, but an offensive holding penalty then set the Potters back to the 27. Clark gained 20 on the draw play, but it was fourth and five on the 47 with 40 seconds left in the half. Chambers went back in punt formation, but the play was a pass. A high snap from center gave Warren enough time to rush Chambers, and he was thrown on the 27.

The Raiders took over with 28 seconds showing on the clock. Two passes were incomplete and Jack Melvin nailed Zoba on the third play, but on fourth down Zoba just eluded Melvin in retreating to the 45 and the Warren quarterback's pass into the end zone was caught by Fisher with no time left. Cooks took a pitchout and scored the conversion.

In the third period Warren came to life, but the Potters held the Raiders off. Alvin Burch intercepted a Cunningham pass and returned it 26 yards to the Potter 37. Sticking to the ground, Warren drove to the 7 with Cooks picking up the last 16 yards on a sweep around left end. A clipping penalty set the ball back to the 22, but Cooks gained back to the 10. Cooks went to the five, then went around left end for an apparent TD, but an illegal procedure penalty against Warren put the ball on the 10 and Chambers deflected a last down pass in the end zone to end that threat.

But Reserve came right back. Cunningham connected with Christian on a pass, but the big end fumbled, and the Raiders took over on the 17. Three plays brought a first down on the five, but then the Potter defenders dug in. Allen went for three, and then one. But on third down Floyd (Bud) Cranston stopped him cold and on last down John Haney, John Johnson and Stanley Ice stacked up Cooks.

Inspired by the defensive effort, the Potters went 99 yards in 13 plays for the go - ahead score. Big gainers were a 19-yard run by Chambers and a 36-yard Cunningham - to - Tom Gooding pass to the 13. Clark gained three and then Cunningham threw into the end zone. Burch deflected the ball, but right into the arms of Williams, five yards away from the intended receiver. Cunningham connected with Clark for the conversion, and it was 14-8 with 6:50 left.

Warren stormed back along the ground, but the drive stalled when Allen was inches short of a first down on the Potter 31. East Liverpool couldn't move the ball, but still seemed in good shape when Chambers' punt put Warren at its own 27 with 1:40 on the clock. But on the first play, Fisher got behind the defenders to take a pass at the Potter 35 and raced down the sidelines untouched to tie the score. Zoba's bootleg untied it and the rest was anti-climactic.

The kickoff traveled to the five, away from Williams, and by the time he could corral it he was brought down on the nine. Cunningham was smeared, amost for a safety, and the Potters finally gave up the ball on the seven, from where Clarence Williams scored on the first play and Marvin Logan added the conversion.

"It's a heck of a way to lose a ball game", mused McNea afterwards. "We played great ball for 46 minutes and then lost it in the last two".

TIPPED TOUCHDOWN. Steve Williams of East Liverpool hangs on to the ball as the referee signals for a touchdown at Patterson Field Saturday night. Dan Cunningham threw a pass intended for Tom Gooding (88), but it was deflected by Alvin Burch (on ground, behind referee) into the arms of Williams. Score put East Liverpool ahead, but Warren Western Reserve rallied for a 24-14 win.

E. Palestine Blanks Beavers 14-0

East Palestine broke through for two second half scores to down Beaver Local 14-0 Saturday afternoon.

The game was a resumption of Friday night's contest, which was halted in the second period when the lights went out.

The win gave East Palestine a 5-1 record, while Dick Bryan's Beavers, who had won three in a row, are now 3-3.

The Bulldogs threatened in the third period, when Larry Rudloff tried a field goal from the 25. It was blocked, but the visitors maintained good field position and a long punt return and a penalty set up a 12-yard score by Cliff Nash.

Beaver Local took the ensuing kickoff, and sparked by a 50-yard run by Bruce Diddle to the eight-yard line, threatened to score. But the Beavers fumbled inside the five, and the threat died.

In the fourth period Nash streaked 70 yards to the 20, from where Bill Strawn hit Terry Lipp with a pass for the final tally.

The expected rushing duel between Joe Lewis of East Palestine and Jim Bowersock of Beaver Local didn't materialize. Lewis was held to 16 yards in 10 carries, mainly through the defensive efforts of Scott Dubberly and Lew Brown, while Bowersock got 30 yards in 12 carries, as Phil Simon and Clark Nash held him down. Cliff Nash, with 82 yards in four carries, paced East Palestine, while Diddle netted 50 yards in three carries for the Beavers.

Bulldog quarterback Tim Blythe was injured in the third period and had to leave the game, while Beaver Local end Gary Klembara suffered a knee injury in the fourth period.

Kenya's Temu Victor In Olympic 10,000

By BOB GREEN

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Americans were blanked, breathless but far from beaten after the first day's competition in the 19th Olympic Games.

Naftali Temu of Kenya won the lung-bursting 10,000-meter run—a drama-spiked race that left veteran Ron Clarke unconscious—and Mohammed Nas Iri of Iran set a world record in taking the bantamweight weightlifting title.

Those were the only two gold medals handed out on Sunday and the United States was not a factor in either of them.

But the U.S. track team gave notice that it would, along with Russia, be the dominant force in these troubled Games, marred on opening day by a soccer fight, illness and high-altitude drop outs.

Temu, a slight 23-year-old, out-dueled Mamo Wolde of Ethiopia in the stretch and won in the relatively slow time of 29:27.4. Mohammed Gammoudi of Tunisia was third and Juan Martinez of Mexico, who had led most of the way, was fourth.

Clarke, holder of 17 world records but never a winner in the Olympics, was second with three laps to go, but faded back in the 7,347-foot altitude.

It was at that point that Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, another veteran, dropped out. With three laps remaining, he pulled into the infield, lay down for a second, then got up and finished.

Tracy Smith of Arcadia, Calif., was the best American, finishing 11th. Billy Mills, who scored a surprise victory for the U.S. squad in the 1964 Olympics, did not qualify to defend his title.

Clarke collapsed, was unconscious and had to be given oxygen after finishing and was suffering from double vision and lack of concentration.

Nassiri, of Iran, did a backflip on stage after winning the gold in weight-lifting. He bettered the world record in the jerk with 330¾ pounds and had an Olympic record total of 810 pounds.

Foldi Imre of Hungary took the silver medal and Henryk Trebicki of Tunisia the bronze.

The United States had to be content with a strong showing in some preliminary events, a basketball victory and a 49 flat 400-meter hurdle mark by Ron Whitney of Boulder, Colo., bettering the listed world mark.

There was one major disappointment—a fifth-place finish in a heat by Harvard's eight-oared crew, which puts them in the repechages.

Geoff Vanderstock of Los Angeles finished second in his heat of the 400-meter hurdles and qualified for the next round.

The United States qualified a full complement of three through two rounds of the 100 meters, led by Charlie Green's wind-aided 10 flat, and put three more in the finals of the shot put topped by Randy Matson's 67-10¼ toss, topping the Olympic record. He made only the one throw.

Willye White and Martha Watson qualified for the women's long jumps finals, but were back in the pack, Miss White seventh and Miss Watson tied for 10th.

Tom Farrell was second in his 800-meter heat to qualify for the finals, along with Ron Kutschinski.

In rowing, the U.S. coxless pairs won their heat, while the coxed pairs and coxed fours also reached the semis after second and third-place finishes, respectively.

A rash of illness was reported on the Harvard eight, perhaps accounting for its poor showing, and Bill Maher, Detroit, a member of the double sculls collapsed after he and John Nunn won their heat. He was taken to the infirmary for rest and is expected to be ready for their competition.

The U.S. basketball team scored an 81-46 first-round victory over Spain while Russia won its first game, beating Poland 91-50.

The fight occurred at a soccer match between Israel and Ghana with two members of the Ghana team being escorted off the field. Israel won 5-3.

Warren stormed back along the ground, but the drive stalled when Allen was inches short of a first down on the Potter 31. East Liverpool couldn't move the ball, but still seemed in good shape when Chambers' punt put Warren at its own 27 with 1:40 on the clock. But on the first play, Fisher got behind the defenders to take a pass at the Potter 35 and raced down the sidelines untouched to tie the score. Zoba's bootleg untied it and the rest was anti-climactic.

The kickoff traveled to the five, away from Williams, and by the time he could corral it he was brought down on the nine. Cunningham was smeared, amost for a safety, and the Potters finally gave up the ball on the seven, from where Clarence Williams scored on the first play and Marvin Logan added the conversion.

"It's a heck of a way to lose a ball game", mused McNea afterwards. "We played great ball for 46 minutes and then lost it in the last two".

TIPPED TOUCHDOWN. Steve Williams of East Liverpool hangs on to the ball as the referee signals for a touchdown at Patterson Field Saturday night. Dan Cunningham threw a pass intended for Tom Gooding (88), but it was deflected by Alvin Burch (on ground, behind referee) into the arms of Williams. Score put East Liverpool ahead, but Warren Western Reserve rallied for a 24-14 win.

E. Palestine Blanks Beavers 14-0

East Palestine broke through for two second half scores to down Beaver Local 14-0 Saturday afternoon.

The game was a resumption of Friday night's contest, which was halted in the second period when the lights went out.

The win gave East Palestine a 5-1 record, while Dick Bryan's Beavers, who had won three in a row, are now 3-3.

The Bulldogs threatened in the third period, when Larry Rudloff tried a field goal from the 25. It was blocked, but the visitors maintained good field position and a long punt return and a penalty set up a 12-yard score by Cliff Nash.

Beaver Local took the ensuing kickoff, and sparked by a 50-yard run by Bruce Diddle to the eight-yard line, threatened to score. But the Beavers fumbled inside the five, and the threat died.

In the fourth period Nash streaked 70 yards to the 20, from where Bill Strawn hit Terry Lipp with a pass for the final tally.

The expected rushing duel between Joe Lewis of East Palestine and Jim Bowersock of Beaver Local didn't materialize. Lewis was held to 16 yards in 10 carries, mainly through the defensive efforts of Scott Dubberly and Lew Brown, while Bowersock got 30 yards in 12 carries, as Phil Simon and Clark Nash held him down. Cliff Nash, with 82 yards in four carries, paced East Palestine, while Diddle netted 50 yards in three carries for the Beavers.

Bulldog quarterback Tim Blythe was injured in the third period and had to leave the game, while Beaver Local end Gary Klembara suffered a knee injury in the fourth period.

Kenya's Temu Victor In Olympic 10,000

By BOB GREEN

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Americans were blanked, breathless but far from beaten after the first day's competition in the 19th Olympic Games.

Naftali Temu of Kenya won the lung-bursting 10,000-meter run—a drama-spiked race that left veteran Ron Clarke unconscious—and Mohammed Nas Iri of Iran set a world record in taking the bantamweight weightlifting title.

Those were the only two gold medals handed out on Sunday and the United States was not a factor in either of them.

But the U.S. track team gave notice that it would, along with Russia, be the dominant force in these troubled Games, marred on opening day by a soccer fight, illness and high-altitude drop outs.

Temu, a slight 23-year-old, out-dueled Mamo Wolde of Ethiopia in the stretch and won in the relatively slow time of 29:27.4. Mohammed Gammoudi of Tunisia was third and Juan Martinez of Mexico, who had led most of the way, was fourth.

Clarke, holder of 17 world records but never a winner in the Olympics, was second with three laps to go, but faded back in the 7,347-foot altitude.

It was at that point that Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, another veteran, dropped out. With three laps remaining, he pulled into the infield, lay down for a second, then got up and finished.

Tracy Smith of Arcadia, Calif., was the best American, finishing 11th. Billy Mills, who scored a surprise victory for the U.S. squad in the 1964 Olympics, did not qualify to defend his title.

Clarke collapsed, was unconscious and had to be given oxygen after finishing and was suffering from double vision and lack of concentration.

Nassiri, of Iran, did a backflip on stage after winning the gold in weight-lifting. He bettered the world record in the jerk with 330¾ pounds and had an Olympic record total of 810 pounds.

Foldi Imre of Hungary took the silver medal and Henryk Trebicki of Tunisia the bronze.

The United States had to be content with a strong showing in some preliminary events, a basketball victory and a 49 flat 400-meter hurdle mark by Ron Whitney of Boulder, Colo., bettering the listed world mark.

There was one major disappointment—a fifth-place finish in a heat by Harvard's eight-oared crew, which puts them in the repechages.

Geoff Vanderstock of Los Angeles finished second in his heat of the 400-meter hurdles and qualified for the next round.

The United States qualified a full complement of three through two rounds of the 100 meters, led by Charlie Green's wind-aided 10 flat, and put three more in the finals of the shot put topped by Randy Matson's 67-10¼ toss, topping the Olympic record. He made only the one throw.

Willye White and Martha Watson qualified for the women's long jumps finals, but were back in the pack, Miss White seventh and Miss Watson tied for 10th.

Tom Farrell was second in his 800-meter heat to qualify for the finals, along with Ron Kutschinski.

In rowing, the U.S. coxless pairs won their heat, while the coxed pairs and coxed fours also reached the semis after second and third-place finishes, respectively.

A rash of illness was reported on the Harvard eight, perhaps accounting for its poor showing, and Bill Maher, Detroit, a member of the double sculls collapsed after he and John Nunn won their heat. He was taken to the infirmary for rest and is expected to be ready for their competition.

The U.S. basketball team scored an 81-46 first-round victory over Spain while Russia won its first game, beating Poland 91-50.

The fight occurred at a soccer match between Israel and Ghana with two members of the Ghana team being escorted off the field. Israel won 5-3.

Bart Starr hurt himself and the Green Bay Packers by warming up the regular way. Maybe he should have tried Sonny Jurgensen's method.

Starr pulled a muscle in his passing arm while warming up Sunday and then stood on the sidelines as the Packers lost 16-14 to the unbeaten Los Angeles Rams for their third defeat in five National Football League games.

Jurgensen, weakened by a severe cold, slept in a storage room for two hours before the game, then went out and threw two touchdown passes in leading the Washington Redskins to a 16-13 victory over Pittsburgh, 0-5.

The victory lifted the Redskins above the .500 mark at 3-2 and moved them to within a game of the New York Giants in the Capital Division. The Giants, 4-1, fell out of a first-place tie with Dallas by being upset 24-21 by Atlanta, 1-4, while the Cowboys were trouncing Philadelphia, 0-5, 34-14.

Los Angeles, by boosting its record to 5-0, kept pace in the Coastal Division with the Baltimore Colts who smashed San Francisco 42-14.

In other NFL action, Detroit moved into a tie for the Central Division lead at 3-2 with Minnesota by downing Chicago, 1-4, 28-19 as Minnesota was upset by New Orleans 20-17 and St. Louis beat Cleveland 27-21.

New Orleans, Cleveland and St. Louis share the Century Division lead with 2-3 records.

Bruce Gossett's 27-yard field goal, his third of the game, came four plays after Packer corner back Herb Adderley was called for interference against Jack Snow, giving the Rams a first down on the Green Bay 25.

One of three interceptions against Zeke Bratkowski, Starr's replacement set up Los Angeles' touchdown in the third period. Willie Ellison scored it from the one. Donnie Anderson ran four yards for a Packer score in the second period and Tom Brown put Green Bay ahead 14-13 by returning a punt 52 yards.

Jurgessen threw a 17-yard scoring strike to Jerry Smith in the opening period, and, then with the Redskins trailing Pittsburgh 10-9 in the third period, he escaped being tackled in the end zone to launch a 96-yard drive which he climaxed with a 49-yard pass to Smith.

Atlanta got its upset of the Giants when Lee Calland intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass in the end zone with 1:16 left. The pass came on a third-and-one foot situation on the Atlanta 12. Tarkenton did throw three touchdown passes but they could not offset three Atlanta scores on runs and a field goal by Bob Etter.

Don Meredith threw two touchdown passes as Dallas marched past Philadelphia. Kicker Sam Baker faked a punt and passed 58 yards for one Philadelphia touchdown.

Earl Morrall hit two scoring strikes for Baltimore and John Unitas, making his first appearance of the season, threw one. Preston Pearson got the Colts started by returning the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Mel Farr rambled for 138 yards, caught six passes for 72 more and scored three touchdowns to spark Detroit over Chicago, whose great Gale Sayers was limited to 38 yards on 12 carries.

New Orleans fashioned its upset of Minnesota on fourth-quarter field goals of 32 and 42 yards by Charlie Durkee. Durkee also scored a touchdown by returning an intercepted pass 92 yards.

St. Louis took advantage of a pair of interference calls to score two touchdowns in the second quarter and then wrapped up its victory over Cleveland with a 13-yard scoring pass from Jim Hart to Dave Williams in the third.

Chargers Stop Raiders; Denver Upsets New York

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

So it's impossible to get through a 14-game season unbeaten. Joe Namath just wants to get through two games unintercepted.

The New York Jets golden arm is still having trouble telling the good guys from the bad guys and that little problem has kept the Jets from pulling away in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

For the second time in three weeks, Namath had five passes stolen, and for the second time in three weeks, the Jets bowed to a heavy underdog. This time it was a 21-13 loss to lowly Denver Sunday.

The defeat dropped the Jets to 3-2 and kept Boston snapping on their heels despite a 16-0 loss to Houston, which climbed back into the chase. Boston is 2-3 and Houston, the defending division champion, 2-4.

Oakland, on the other hand, lost for the first time in 15 games, dropping a 23-14 decision to San Diego, which not only dropped the Raiders from the unbeaten, but plopped them out of first place in the Western Division.

The Raiders relinquished the lead to Kansas City as the Chiefs raised their record to 5-1 with a hard-fought 13-3 victory over Cincinnati. Oakland fell to a second place tie with San Diego at 4-1.

Miami and Buffalo tied 14-14 Saturday night in the only other game as Buffalo's Dan Darragh pitched a three-yard scoring pass to Gary McDermott with 18 seconds left and then McDermott caught a two-point conversion pass from Ed Rutkowsky.

"I stink," said a disgusted Namath, who was intercepted five times two weeks ago in an upset loss to Buffalo and then threw only to teamates in last week's victory over San Diego.

"When he's good," said Bronco defensive tackle Dave Costa, "He's great. But when he's bad, he's terrible."

Only one of the interceptions led to Denver points, but they cut short most of New York's offensive hopes.

Namath did manage 20 completions in 41 throws for 341 yards and his 69-yarder to Don Marynard set up New York's only touchdown.

He had one final chance after passing the Jets 82 yards to Denver's three-yard line with six seconds left. But his last pass on fourth down hit the goal post.

Fran Lynch scored Denver's first two touchdowns on short runs and the clincher came when Steve Tensi passed 72 yards to Eric Crabtree in the third quarter.

San Diego stopped Oakland one victory short of tying the Charger's record of 15-straight regular season triumphs as Dennis Partee kicked field goals of 27, 27 and 29 yards and Lance Alworth caught nine passes for 182 yards and one touchdown. But they shared the spotlight with a defense that intercepted two passes, recovered three fumbles and allowed the Raiders only 16 total yards in the final half.

Kansas City relied on a grudging defense and Jan Stenerud's 52 and 46-yard field goals for a 6-3 lead after three quarters until Len Dawson drove the Chiefs 64 yards for the clinching touchdown.

Bob Davis, a second-year quarterback filling in for Pete Beathard, ran 17 yards for a key first down and then scooted seven yards for a touchdown as he guided Houston past Boston. John Whittenborn took care of the other scoring with field goals of 44, 15 and 34 yards and the defensive handed the Patriots their first shutout since the first game of the 1966 season.

Dixonville Clinches National Division Title

Dixonville clinched the National Division of the Bill Booth football little league yesterday with a 6-0 win over St. Al's at Thompson Park.

Jim Kuczynski scored the lone TD on a nine-yard run after passing 25 and 32 yards to Don Green to set up the score, which came after the opening kickoff. The Dixonville defense held St. Al's inside the 15 three times.

Northside stayed in the running in the American Division with a 22-14 win over East End at Bell Field. Mike FitzGerald and Mark Chamberlain scored on short runs and Tom Briggs caught a 40-yard pass from Len O'Hanlon for the Northside TDs. Ronnie Foster scored on a one-yard run and Ernest Miller caught a 35-yard TD pass from John Craig for East End.

In Pee Wee games Dixonville kept its lead by blanking St. Al's 16-0. Charley and Mike Payne did the scoring. East End downed Northside 34-22 as Terry Lane scored twice, Dan Bourne scored once and passed to Jeff Anderson 50 yards for another score and John Yanni picked up the other tally for the winners. Terry Goodwin scored on an interception and took a pass from Dean Badgley for Northside TDs, and Badgley ran for the other score.

Next week Northside and Glenmoor will meet at Thompson Park, St. Al's and East End will collide at Mays' Field and West End faces Dixonville at Bell Field.

Gary Player Wins World Match Play

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Gary Player won the fifth World Match Play Golf Championship Sunday before a gallery that cheered for the little South African's opponent.

Player beat left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand 1-up over 36 holes in the final.

He got into his final match with Charles by defeating Tony Jacklin of England with a birdie 4 on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff earlier in the day.

Player and Jaclin were tied Friday after 36 holes, and play was rained out Saturday.

The large galleries cheered loudly for Jacklin throughout the match.

"I was about to make a shot," Player said later, "and someone shouted, 'Miss it, miss it.'

Dixonville clinched the National Division of the Bill Booth football little league yesterday with a 6-0 win over St. Al's at Thompson Park.

Jim Kuczynski scored the lone TD on a nine-yard run after passing 25 and 32 yards to Don Green to set up the score, which came after the opening kickoff. The Dixonville defense held St. Al's inside the 15 three times.

Northside stayed in the running in the American Division with a 22-14 win over East End at Bell Field. Mike FitzGerald and Mark Chamberlain scored on short runs and Tom Briggs caught a 40-yard pass from Len O'Hanlon for the Northside TDs. Ronnie Foster scored on a one-yard run and Ernest Miller caught a 35-yard TD pass from John Craig for East End.

In Pee Wee games Dixonville kept its lead by blanking St. Al's 16-0. Charley and Mike Payne did the scoring. East End downed Northside 34-22 as Terry Lane scored twice, Dan Bourne scored once and passed to Jeff Anderson 50 yards for another score and John Yanni picked up the other tally for the winners. Terry Goodwin scored on an interception and took a pass from Dean Badgley for Northside TDs, and Badgley ran for the other score.

Next week Northside and Glenmoor will meet at Thompson Park, St. Al's and East End will collide at Mays' Field and West End faces Dixonville at Bell Field.

Gary Player Wins World Match Play

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Gary Player won the fifth World Match Play Golf Championship Sunday before a gallery that cheered for the little South African's opponent.

Player beat left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand 1-up over 36 holes in the final.

He got into his final match with Charles by defeating Tony Jacklin of England with a birdie 4 on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff earlier in the day.

Player and Jaclin were tied Friday after 36 holes, and play was rained out Saturday.

The large galleries cheered loudly for Jacklin throughout the match.

"I was about to make a shot," Player said later, "and someone shouted, 'Miss it, miss it.'

Pierce Takes Yogi Lead, Shaffer 9-1 For Week

Thanks to close wins by Leetonia and Southern Local, the consensus of the Review Grid Yogis managed to post an 8-2 mark for the weekend.

Turk Pierce, with the consensus all the way, broke a first place tie with Chuck Campbell, who went 7-3. Bob Shaffer posted a 9-1 mark for the week, while Rose Nuzzo and Bob Duffy were 8-2 and Pete Weaver and Ed Clutter 6-4.

Campbell, along with Weaver and Clutter, tripped up on East Liverpool downed 24-14 by Warren Western Reserve. He also missed, along with Pierce, Weaver and Clutter, the Browns, who were topped 27-21 by the Cards; and Purdue, a 13-0 loser to Ohio State. Clutter had that one tabbed, but he fell with Oak Glen, a 33-24 loser to Philip Barbour, and the Packers, edged 16-14 by the Rams. Weaver and Nuzzo also tripped up on the Packers. Duffy was wrong on UCLA, a 21-6 loser to Penn State, as well as with Purdue.

Everyone was right on Midland, a 25-13 winner over Burgettstown; Southern Local, a 28-26 victor over Wellsville; East Palestine, which blanked Beaver Local 14-0; and Leetonia, which nipped Columbiana 27-26.

Hull Rejoins Hawks, Scores In 5-2 Win

By The Associated Press

Bobby Hull is back with a new contract but on the ice he's the same as ever.

Hull reached contract agreement Sunday with Chicago and then helped the Black Hawks score a 5-2 National Hockey League victory over the New York Rangers.

Hull ended his brief retirement by signing with the Black Hawks 1½ hours before game time after calling it quits Thursday during a contract dispute. The amount of the contract was not revealed but Hull was seeking $100,000 a year.

Hull scored Chicago's fifth goal at 8:13 in the second period.

In other action, the Boston Bruins slipped by the Philadelphia Flyers 3-2, the Toronto Maple Leafs edged the Detroit Red Wings 2-1 and the Los Angeles Kings and the Oakland Seals played to a 4-4 tie.

Chicago jumped to a 2-0 lead on goals by Ken Wharram and Bill Orban 30 seconds apart early in the second period. Chicago's other goals were scored by Jim Pappin, Stan Mikita and Hull. Bob Nevin scored both goals for New York.

Boston ruined Philadelphia's opener with a tie-breaking goal in the opening seconds of the final period. Phil Esposito slammed in his own rebound to give the Bruins the decisive goal over the Flyers, last year's West Division champions.

Mike Walton rammed home Toronto's decisive goal during the final period. Detroit's only goal was scored by Gordie Howe in the second period.

Oakland needed an explosive three-goal third-period rally to tie the Kings. Gary Jarrett scored twice in the period, including the tying goal with 68 seconds to go.

In Saturday games, St. Louis romped over Los Angeles 6-0 and Montreal and Pittsburgh played to a 1-1 tie.

Iorio Wins Motorcycle Scramble

Martin Iorio, on a Bultaco, turned in the best time of the day at a Hare Scramble at the Pirate Motorcycle Grounds on Route 170 south of East Palestine yesterday.

Iorio covered one lap in 3:25. Earl Teeters on a Honda was next with 3:33.

Bill Webber won the 90 cc class with Ed Seiffert second and Glenn Brady third. D. Eisenbraun on a Kawaski won the 175 cc class with Kenneth Grunden second and Jim Eisenbraun third. John J. Goncz on a Kwaski took the 250 cc class with Douglas McCully second and Bill Glover third. Teeters won the 360 cc class with Thomas Woods second and Robert Sill third.

The next events at the club grounds will be Hare Scrambles on Nov. 3 and Nov. 17.

McLain Outpolls Gibson On Baseball All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion Detroit Tigers and the Chicago Cubs each have placed two men on the major league all-star team as selected in the annual Associated Press poll.

Denny McLain, baseball's first 31-game winner in 37 yards, and catcher Bill Freehan are the Tigers voted to the team. The Cubs had half the infield—second baseman Glenn Beckert and third baseman Ron Santo.

The rest of the infield has Willie McCovey of San Francisco at first and California's Jim Fregosi at short. Pete Rose of Cincinnati, Curt Flood of St. Louis and Boston's Carl Yastrzemski make up the outfield while Dave McNally of Baltimore is the left-handed pitcher.

Rose received the most votes, 169 out of 214, while Fregosi edged Bert Campaneris of Oakland in the closest battle 65-58.

McLain received 112 votes for right-handed pitcher to 100 for St. Louis' Bob Gibson. The voting was conducted on the basis of the regular season.

Besides Gibson and Campaneris, the second team has Jerry Koosman of the New York Mets as the left-handed pitcher, Johnny Bench of Cincinnati the catcher, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs at first, Cincinnati's Tommy Helms at second and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore at third.

The outfield is Frank Howard of Washington, Willie Horton of Detroit and Ken Harrelson of Boston.

Rams Blank Oakdale For 3rd Win In Row

OAKDALE — The passing of sophomore Ed Ashcroft carried South Side Beaver to a 26-0 win over Oakdale Boys Home here Saturday afternoon.

The win was the third straight for the Rams of Don Charlton, with all wins coming by shutouts.

The South Side defense didn't allow Oakdale into their territory all day, though the losers threatened after running back a pass interception to the 10. Oakdale got only one first down and 25 yards total offense.

Ashcroft completed 14 passes for 230 yards and three touchdowns, and two extra points, with Bruce Walker catching two of the TD aerials and Bob Brinkley the other. Bruce Potts connected with Larry Anderson on a halfback pass for the other tally.

Claude Goodman, an end, and safety Ken Dunlevy were outstanding on defense for the Rams.

Ohio State Defense Stuns Purdue, 13-0

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A little early for Rose Bowl fever?

Not for enthusiastic Ohio State football fans who whooped it up after their beloved Buckeyes stunned No. 1 ranked Purdue 13-0.

"We're No. 1," they shouted after Saturday's upset before a record Ohio Stadium crowd of 84,834.

And Coach Woody Hayes, who called the victory his biggest in his 18 years at Ohio State, described the performance of his defensive unit as "unbelievable."

Hayes couldn't say enough about the unsung defensive heroes who stole the show from Purdue's All-American halfback Leroy Keyes and touted quarterback Mike Phipps.

"It was the greatest defensive effort I've ever seen," Hayes said proudly.

What about a Big Ten title, which the fourth-ranked Buckeyes haven't claimed since 1961 or a trip to Pasadena, where the Bucks haven't played since 1958?

Hayes isn't buying such premature notions.

"We've got a lots of tough ones left." And referring to his cloud-high players, Hayes said: "I imagine we'll have to get them down off their skyhawks Monday."

Keyes, Purdue's Mr. Everything, was stymied by a hounding Buckeye defense that held him to 19 yards rushing in seven tries and 44 yards on four pass catches.

Phipps, who performed brilliantly in a 41-6 over the Bucks last year, was off form, hitting only 10 of 28 passes. He was thrown six times for losses of 58 yards.

Pierce Takes Yogi Lead, Shaffer 9-1 For Week

Thanks to close wins by Leetonia and Southern Local, the consensus of the Review Grid Yogis managed to post an 8-2 mark for the weekend.

Turk Pierce, with the consensus all the way, broke a first place tie with Chuck Campbell, who went 7-3. Bob Shaffer posted a 9-1 mark for the week, while Rose Nuzzo and Bob Duffy were 8-2 and Pete Weaver and Ed Clutter 6-4.

Campbell, along with Weaver and Clutter, tripped up on East Liverpool downed 24-14 by Warren Western Reserve. He also missed, along with Pierce, Weaver and Clutter, the Browns, who were topped 27-21 by the Cards; and Purdue, a 13-0 loser to Ohio State. Clutter had that one tabbed, but he fell with Oak Glen, a 33-24 loser to Philip Barbour, and the Packers, edged 16-14 by the Rams. Weaver and Nuzzo also tripped up on the Packers. Duffy was wrong on UCLA, a 21-6 loser to Penn State, as well as with Purdue.

Everyone was right on Midland, a 25-13 winner over Burgettstown; Southern Local, a 28-26 victor over Wellsville; East Palestine, which blanked Beaver Local 14-0; and Leetonia, which nipped Columbiana 27-26.

Hull Rejoins Hawks, Scores In 5-2 Win

By The Associated Press

Bobby Hull is back with a new contract but on the ice he's the same as ever.

Hull reached contract agreement Sunday with Chicago and then helped the Black Hawks score a 5-2 National Hockey League victory over the New York Rangers.

Hull ended his brief retirement by signing with the Black Hawks 1½ hours before game time after calling it quits Thursday during a contract dispute. The amount of the contract was not revealed but Hull was seeking $100,000 a year.

Hull scored Chicago's fifth goal at 8:13 in the second period.

In other action, the Boston Bruins slipped by the Philadelphia Flyers 3-2, the Toronto Maple Leafs edged the Detroit Red Wings 2-1 and the Los Angeles Kings and the Oakland Seals played to a 4-4 tie.

Chicago jumped to a 2-0 lead on goals by Ken Wharram and Bill Orban 30 seconds apart early in the second period. Chicago's other goals were scored by Jim Pappin, Stan Mikita and Hull. Bob Nevin scored both goals for New York.

Boston ruined Philadelphia's opener with a tie-breaking goal in the opening seconds of the final period. Phil Esposito slammed in his own rebound to give the Bruins the decisive goal over the Flyers, last year's West Division champions.

Mike Walton rammed home Toronto's decisive goal during the final period. Detroit's only goal was scored by Gordie Howe in the second period.

Oakland needed an explosive three-goal third-period rally to tie the Kings. Gary Jarrett scored twice in the period, including the tying goal with 68 seconds to go.

In Saturday games, St. Louis romped over Los Angeles 6-0 and Montreal and Pittsburgh played to a 1-1 tie.

Iorio Wins Motorcycle Scramble

Martin Iorio, on a Bultaco, turned in the best time of the day at a Hare Scramble at the Pirate Motorcycle Grounds on Route 170 south of East Palestine yesterday.

Iorio covered one lap in 3:25. Earl Teeters on a Honda was next with 3:33.

Bill Webber won the 90 cc class with Ed Seiffert second and Glenn Brady third. D. Eisenbraun on a Kawaski won the 175 cc class with Kenneth Grunden second and Jim Eisenbraun third. John J. Goncz on a Kwaski took the 250 cc class with Douglas McCully second and Bill Glover third. Teeters won the 360 cc class with Thomas Woods second and Robert Sill third.

The next events at the club grounds will be Hare Scrambles on Nov. 3 and Nov. 17.

McLain Outpolls Gibson On Baseball All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion Detroit Tigers and the Chicago Cubs each have placed two men on the major league all-star team as selected in the annual Associated Press poll.

Denny McLain, baseball's first 31-game winner in 37 yards, and catcher Bill Freehan are the Tigers voted to the team. The Cubs had half the infield—second baseman Glenn Beckert and third baseman Ron Santo.

The rest of the infield has Willie McCovey of San Francisco at first and California's Jim Fregosi at short. Pete Rose of Cincinnati, Curt Flood of St. Louis and Boston's Carl Yastrzemski make up the outfield while Dave McNally of Baltimore is the left-handed pitcher.

Rose received the most votes, 169 out of 214, while Fregosi edged Bert Campaneris of Oakland in the closest battle 65-58.

McLain received 112 votes for right-handed pitcher to 100 for St. Louis' Bob Gibson. The voting was conducted on the basis of the regular season.

Besides Gibson and Campaneris, the second team has Jerry Koosman of the New York Mets as the left-handed pitcher, Johnny Bench of Cincinnati the catcher, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs at first, Cincinnati's Tommy Helms at second and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore at third.

The outfield is Frank Howard of Washington, Willie Horton of Detroit and Ken Harrelson of Boston.

Rams Blank Oakdale For 3rd Win In Row

OAKDALE — The passing of sophomore Ed Ashcroft carried South Side Beaver to a 26-0 win over Oakdale Boys Home here Saturday afternoon.

The win was the third straight for the Rams of Don Charlton, with all wins coming by shutouts.

The South Side defense didn't allow Oakdale into their territory all day, though the losers threatened after running back a pass interception to the 10. Oakdale got only one first down and 25 yards total offense.

Ashcroft completed 14 passes for 230 yards and three touchdowns, and two extra points, with Bruce Walker catching two of the TD aerials and Bob Brinkley the other. Bruce Potts connected with Larry Anderson on a halfback pass for the other tally.

Claude Goodman, an end, and safety Ken Dunlevy were outstanding on defense for the Rams.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A little early for Rose Bowl fever?

Not for enthusiastic Ohio State football fans who whooped it up after their beloved Buckeyes stunned No. 1 ranked Purdue 13-0.

"We're No. 1," they shouted after Saturday's upset before a record Ohio Stadium crowd of 84,834.

And Coach Woody Hayes, who called the victory his biggest in his 18 years at Ohio State, described the performance of his defensive unit as "unbelievable."

Hayes couldn't say enough about the unsung defensive heroes who stole the show from Purdue's All-American halfback Leroy Keyes and touted quarterback Mike Phipps.

"It was the greatest defensive effort I've ever seen," Hayes said proudly.

What about a Big Ten title, which the fourth-ranked Buckeyes haven't claimed since 1961 or a trip to Pasadena, where the Bucks haven't played since 1958?

Hayes isn't buying such premature notions.

"We've got a lots of tough ones left." And referring to his cloud-high players, Hayes said: "I imagine we'll have to get them down off their skyhawks Monday."

Keyes, Purdue's Mr. Everything, was stymied by a hounding Buckeye defense that held him to 19 yards rushing in seven tries and 44 yards on four pass catches.

Phipps, who performed brilliantly in a 41-6 over the Bucks last year, was off form, hitting only 10 of 28 passes. He was thrown six times for losses of 58 yards.

Junior Editors Quiz on FATHOMS

QUESTION: Why is the word fathom used in speaking of depths at sea?

* * * *

ANSWER: Measurements of depth enable sailors to know whether there is safe water under their ships or perhaps dangerous shoals. From early times, sailors have lowered weights on ropes to find out where the bottom is. Handling rope all the time, it was important to have a simple, quick method of measuring its length. By holding a rope up with outstretched arms, the sailors had such a system; they called the length of rope between the fingertips a fathom. Since some sailors had long arms and others short, a more exact system became needed, and it was decided that a fathom was just six feet. But the word fathom was retained and is still used. Nautical charts are marked in fathoms, and the marks on the lead line the sailor is casting overboard (lower left) indicate the number of fathoms when the lead comes to rest. Much modern sounding is done by sending echo signals down from a ship and measuring the time spent in bouncing back up from the bottom. Even with such a modern system, the old word fathom is still used to indicate depth.
